Missionaries Roped to Rebels and Carried Away Into Mountains; 10,000 Natives Are Reported Slain

British and American Gunboats Seek to Protect Aliens; Fear That Many May Have Died in Mutiny

BY UNITED PRESS. SHANGHAI, June 22.—Foreign women missionaries have been roped with Chinese, two by two, and driven into the mountains, according to reports from Kiangfu, giving details of the most horrible massacres since the Boxer rebellion.

Soldiers with whips lashed the foreign women to hurry them on the march into captivity.

More than 10,000 Chinese and many foreigners are reported to have been murdered in widespread slaughter by mutinous troops in the Kiangsi province.

British missionaries are reported to have applied direct to the foreign office at London, over the heads of the Peking legation, for assistance against the mutineers. They are quoted as saying the disaster is the most terrible in years.

First reports that ten thousand had been slain in the destruction of Kiangfu, Kiangsi, Kiangnan and other cities of the central Kiangsi province, are believed to be exceeded by fresh atrocities.

Hundreds of foreign and American missionaries are in danger. American gunboats are coming. The Quirios and the Monocacy are reported on their way from Kiangsi. The British are sending the Bee, the Foxglove and the Cockchafer.

British and American marines will be in the landing parties.

10,000 NATIVES REPORTED SLAIN

NANCHANG, China, June 22 (By International News Service).—Two gunboats proceeded from Nanchang today to protect and remove foreigners from the district in which mutinous soldiers of Wu Pei Fu are reported to have burned and looted Kiangfu, Chang Su and three other cities and slaughtered upwards of 10,000 natives.

The entire district has been razed, reports reaching here said, and thousands of fugitives are fleeing.

Refugees from Kiangfu tell a terrible story of rapine, pillage and murder by the revolting Wu Pei Fu troops. The entire province of Kiangsi is in a reign of terror. All communications have been stopped throughout the province.

A big colony of Catholics at Taiho has sent a plea to Shanghai for help.

The soldiers under General Tsai were in Kiangsi province to fight the troops of Dr. Sun Yat Sen. Unable to control his forces, General Tsai is reported in flight after graphing an urgent plea to Wu Pei Fu for help.

Many foreign missionaries are in the danger zone, and the gunboats now proceeding to that district hope to bring them all out safely.

DR. SUN CAPTIVE CALLED TO PEKING

KIANGSI, Province of Kiangsi, June 22 (By the Associated Press).—A president on Friday morning, a prisoner and an exile from his capital: Tuesday night, that, in brief, is the history of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, recently head of the Canton government in China.

Authentic word is at hand to show that Sun, though a prisoner, is by no means disoriented. The provisional government set up in Canton in its first official act today decided that he should be permitted to resign, instead of being expelled from his presidential office, and that he should be granted a safe conduct to go abroad or to Peking, as he chose.

Li Yuan-hung, the new president at Peking, has issued a formal invitation urging Dr. Sun to aid him in reorganizing the Chinese government.

The Canton provisional government has pledged itself to support the administration headed by Li Yuan-hung at Peking.

REPORT SAVES SUN FROM ESCAPE. SHANGHAI, June 22.—(By the Associated Press).—Sun Yat Sen, the president without a republic, has disappeared, according to Chinese circles here. An unconfirmed message from the Canton region states that when Sun's naval forces deserted him, he fled the scene of his defeat and now is making his way towards Shanghai by an undisclosed route.

THIRTY-FIVE SLAIN IN ILLINOIS COAL MINE CONFLICTS

Non-Union Employees of Herrin Pits, Captured by Strikers, Are Killed During Attack in Woods

THREE BODIES HANG FROM TREES

MARION, Ill., June 22, 1:15 p. m.—Thirty-five are dead in the mine warfare in the pits between Marion and Herrin, according to word reaching the office of Colonel Hunter of the National Guard here at this hour.

Colonel Hunter's aid announced that these reports were brought in by eye-witnesses to the killings, who had counted the bodies. Word was sent back to Marion by Colonel Hunter that he found the mine of the Southern Illinois Coal Company, where strikebreakers had been employed, a total wreck. Buildings were burned, tracks torn up and cranes dynamited.

Many bodies were hanging from trees and others showed evidence of severe beating before being fired upon, these reports said. Martial law seemed imminent.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEAD WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

HERRIN, Ill., June 22.—A check-up at noon today, made by The Associated Press, showed twenty-six known dead and indication that the total would be more than thirty in the hostilities between striking miners and non-union employees of the Strip mines of the Southern Illinois Coal Company, near here.

Bodies were spread over an area fifteen miles square, some of them riddled with bullets, others beaten to death, and three hanging by ropes from trees.

MANGLED MEN ARE REFUSED WATER.

Out in a road near the mine, six men tied together and terribly mangled by bullets and clubs, were lying in a scorching sun, while hundreds of men and women laughed at their pleas for water made in the name of God.

One of the men, his face bloody and one shoulder shot away, apparently was within a few minutes of death.

"Please, boys, give me a drink," he moaned.

A laugh from the hundreds of spectators was the only reply.

The correspondents rushed to a house for water and when he returned he was faced by a sword, quickly drawn pistols and told to keep away.

When the man begged again for water, "for God's sake," a young woman with a baby in her arms, placed her foot on the mangled body and said: "I'll see you in hell before you get any water."

The men apparently had been dragged down a rock road behind

Walter Hagen Leads British Golf Match

SANDWICH, June 22.—(By the Associated Press).—Walter Hagen, one of the three American professionals competing in the British open golf championship, led the field at the end of the second round, concluded this afternoon, with an aggregate of 149. His morning score was a 76 and his afternoon 73.

Jim Barnes, the American open champion, was close behind with 151, tied with two British golfers, while Jack Hutchinson, present holder of the British title, was in the next group with three British golfers with scores of 153.

The eight leading aggregates at the end of the second round, were: Walter Hagen, 149; Jim Barnes, 151; J. H. Taylor, George Duncan, 151; Jack Hutchinson, Tom Walton, Gas-sack and Alliss, 153.

PHILIPPINES LOSE APPEAL FOR LIBERTY

Time Is Not Yet For Independence of Philippines, President Replies to Plea Made By Islands Mission

Policy of Administration Is Along Lines Laid Down By McKinley; Renewal of Good Intentions of U. S.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEAD WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Although commending the Philippine aspirations to independence and complete self government, President Harding today replied to the Philippines parliamentary mission "that the time is not yet for independence."

The president's statement was made to the members of the mission who last week presented to him the Philippines' argument and plea for a separate political existence. The policy of the administration, Harding stated, would follow along the lines laid down by his predecessors in the White House, notably President McKinley, under whom the Philippines were freed from Spain.

TIME IS NOT YET FOR INDEPENDENCE.

"With every mindfulness for your aspirations, with shared pride in your achievements with gratitude for your loyalty, with reiterated assurance that I mean to honor no people under the flag who do not rejoice in that relationship, I must say to you that the time is not yet for independence," said the president.

"I can imagine a continued progress which will make our bonds either easy to sever, or rivet them more firmly, because you will it to be so. At this time it is not for me to suggest the day, distant or near. Meanwhile, I can only renew the proven assurance of our good intentions, our desire to be helpful without exacting your private or public purpose, restricting the freedom of your people and peoples' aspirations."

U. S. RELATION IS UNSELFISH DEVOTION.

"No backward step is contemplated. No diminution of your domestic control is to be sought. Our relation to your domestic affairs is that of an unselfish devotion which is born of our faith in opening to you the way of liberty which you dream."

"Our sponsorship in international affairs is related in the common flag, which is unfurled to you. It is unfurled for us, and society is your seal of American relationship."

President Quizzed About Weeks' Talk

DALLAS, Tex., June 22.—President Harding was asked whether Secretary Weeks is voting the policy of the administration and is expressing criticism of the Volstead Act at the Pennsylvania Military College recently, in a telegram sent today to the executive by the Rev. Atticus Webb, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(By International News Service).—Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, was considerably rolled today over the statement made by Secretary Weeks, in favor of legislation to promote the sale of beer and light wines.

"Secretary Weeks is not a new recruit to the beer and light wine brigade," Wheeler said. "He has always been against prohibition and is an irreconcilable foe. He dodged the vote on war prohibition voted for all weakening amendments proposed to the national prohibition amendment and then voted against them."

Santa Fe Train Is Ditched; Many Hurt

TOPEKA, Kas., June 22.—Four cars of a west-bound Atchafalaya-Topeka and Santa Fe passenger train No. 1, Chicago to California, were derailed shortly before noon at Corliss, near Holliday, Kas., 15 miles west of Kansas City, according to a report received by officials of the road here.

A number of passengers were reported slightly injured. The cars were piled against a bluff.

Fall River Water Object of Law Suit

REDDING, June 22.—Suit to obtain control of one-sixth of the water in Fall river was filed today by the Fall River Irrigation District against the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

Both the company and the irrigation district claim title to the water, which is needed by farmers for irrigation and which the electric company claims is necessary to its Pitt river power project.

A. F. of L. Votes To Curb Courts; Move to Launch Party Defeated

Attempt to Stampede Convention in Favor of Political Action Fails.

CINCINNATI, O., June 22.—(By the Associated Press).—By an overwhelming vote, the American Federation of Labor convention today adopted a program, centering around four proposed constitutional amendments, repeat of the Sherman anti-trust law and other legislation, as the means for curbing the courts on account of decisions adverse to labor. The program was drafted by a special policy committee and accepted without change by the convention.

By WARREN W. WHEATON, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

CINCINNATI, O., June 22.—The American Federation of Labor today squelched an attempt to stampede its annual convention into favoring formation by organized labor of a third big political party.

Appeal for a political revolt through placing a labor party in the political field came from Max Hays of Cleveland, while the convention assailed all branches of the government and threatened revolution by labor if the government "continues to stop progressive evolution."

Employees of labor were warned that the more they "attempt to deprive workers of their livelihood and their earnings, the quicker we will have redress."

Conservatives urged the convention not to determine upon hasty judgment.

"If I was to advise this convention," said Matthew Woll, vice-president of the federation, "on the course labor should pursue, I would advise the administrative, the judicial and the legislative branches of the government to go to it. If they want to take away our savings and our liberties, if they want to stop progressive evolution and substitute revolution, go to it."

HAYS PLEADS FOR POLITICAL ACTION.

Hays pleaded for independent political action by labor as "necessary for our own safety."

"We must buttress our industrial movement with a political movement of our own," he urged. "We must have a political revolt and elect men from our own ranks."

The appeal was favorably received by many on the convention floor who applauded vigorously.

President Gompers attempted to stop debate when men from all parts of the floor sprang up. The convention voted 167 to 62 to stop the debate. It then almost unanimously adopted the report of the special committee on judicial decisions which embodied United States Senator La Follette's program for labor combatting adverse court decisions.

UNION CHIEFS CONFERENCE ON AID TO STRIKERS.

CLEVELAND, June 22.—John C. Lewis, president, and William Green, secretary, of the United Mine Workers of America, were in conference with W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Engine Drivers today. It was understood the mission was for the purpose of securing financial aid for the striking miners.

Lewis was understood to have an engagement with Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers this afternoon.

Former Official of Steel Firm Indicted

NEW YORK, June 22.—Six men, including Henry Bope, former vice-president of the Carnegie Steel company, were indicted by the federal grand jury today charged with using the mails to defraud investors in the stock and bonds of the Pennsylvania Steel and Refining Company, now bankrupt, out of approximately $600,000.

Doctor Slain By Patient When He Urges Operation

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 22.—"Either cure me or I'll kill you," George Stonoff told Dr. G. L. Schmitt and when the physician urged the patient that it would require an operation, Stonoff whipped out a gun today and shot him. The shooting occurred in the physician's office in a downtown building.

Stonoff, who is 24, made a statement to the police after the shooting. He declared he went to Dr. Schmitt for a treatment of a disease last November. When a certain number of treatments advised by the doctor failed to cure him, Stonoff declared he took other treatments totaling $300 in the past year.

When the physician told him that he must submit to an operation Stonoff said he purchased a gun and, going to Dr. Schmitt, told him he would cure him or he would kill him.

Today he called at Dr. Schmitt's office. The doctor was firm in his advice that an operation was necessary.

Without a further word, Stonoff drew his gun and fired. He was held without bail for the killing.

DOWNFALL OF LLOYD GEORGE SEEN

Defeat of Premier in Committee Brings Leader to New Crisis; May Force An Appeal to Country Soon

LONDON, June 22.—The Lloyd George government was defeated in the grand committee in the House of Commons. The committee adopted an amendment to the national health insurance bill which the government had opposed.

The House adjourned immediately following announcement of this defeat to permit the government to consider its position.

Immediately the lobbies of parliament seethed with talk of a general election.

Defeat of the government in the House of Lords yesterday when the Palestine mandate policy was rejected, 60 to 29, despite the Earl of Balfour's maiden speech, followed so closely by today's defeat, gave opponents of the government something definite upon which to base their demands for resignation.

RUSS POLICY OF PREMIER MENACED.

Lloyd George's political enemies, embittered by successes scored by the premier in typical Lloyd George fashion since his return from Genoa, fear that now is the time they can most embarrass him by forcing the issue.

With British delegates at The Hague carrying on the premier's Genoa policies, resignation of the ministry probably would mean collapse of the entire project of reconciliation with Russia. Lloyd George's one big international project would be swept away.

The "die hards" who hate the premier because of his stand on Ireland, and the labor members of parliament who are bitter because 900,000 workers in engineering trades were forced to capitulate and accept employers' terms following a lockout, will be united against Lloyd George when the present issue upon which the government met defeat in committee comes before the house.

TWO COURSES OPEN TO LLOYD GEORGE.

The government has two courses open. To pocket its pride, introduce the bill providing for national health insurance with the amendment forced upon it, and say nothing, or revamp the whole measure, submit it to the House of Commons and demand a vote of confidence on the issue.

The latter course is fraught with danger, although a combination of the conservative majority of "dead" votes in the House and Lloyd George's persuasive eloquence would undoubtedly guarantee him a small majority.

Political observers say that unless Lloyd George himself is ready to resign, he will be able to weather the storm and continue in office until after The Hague conference.

A general election is due in the fall anyway, and it is merely a question now of what Lloyd George considers the best time to hold one.

Clerk Arrested For $1250 Bond Theft

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Charged with the theft last March of $1250 worth of Liberty bonds and War Savings Stamps, Charles J. Erickson, an insurance clerk, 20 years old, was arrested today at his home, 1544 Forty-fifth avenue.

The lure of joyriding and the desire to possess an automobile are admitted by the youth. He has been responsible for the stealing of the securities from the Providence Life Insurance Company, 202 Sansome street.

The property belonged to William Hackmeier, of 534 Fourth avenue, special agent for the company. While Hackmeier was on a tour of his district a strong box in the vault was taken away. He returned Tuesday to discover his property missing. Detectives traced the theft, they say, to Erickson and recovered only the empty box and papers belonging to Hackmeier. They assert that Erickson admitted the theft.

Southern Senators Roiled, Hurl Lie

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(By International News Service).—An encounter between Senators Tom Heflin, Democrat, of Alabama, and Carter Glass, Democrat, of Virginia, was narrowly averted in the Senate today when each senator passed the lie to the other.

Both were angrily shouting when Senator Watson, Democrat, of Georgia, appealed to Vice-President Coolidge to call them to order. Open hostilities were averted when the vice-president compelled both senators to be seated while the rules on senatorial privileges were read to them.

IRISH ASSASSINATE SIR H. H. WILSON, ENGLISH MARSHAL

Former Chief of Staff Slain by Two Republican Soldiers in London; Slayers Captured in Gun Battle

FOUR PURSUERS SHOT; ONE IS KILLED

BELFAST, June 22.—(By the Associated Press).—The news of the assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson created a sensation in Belfast, where it is feared it will provoke reprisals. The Sinn Feiners are popularly blamed for it.

LONDON, June 22.—(By United Press).—Two soldiers of the Irish Republican army today shot to death Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson in front of his residence at Eaton Square here.

The assassins were captured after they had put up a running fight and shot three policemen and a civilian.

One of the slayers attempted suicide following arrest.

Scotland Yard announced the names of Wilson's assailants as James O'Brien and James Connolly. Both gave their ages as 24.

The murder of Wilson, a member of parliament from Ulster, was believed to be part of a widespread plot to assassinate opponents of the Irish Republican party, and guards were redoubled in Whitehall and at Lloyd George's residence in Downing street.

Wilson was leader of the Ulsterite cause in England. He was also head of the Ulster defense under Sir James Craig.

An attack was made upon the residence of Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, last Tuesday, but it was frustrated.

After shooting Sir Henry, the two assassins ran through the streets pursued by police, who constantly guard Eaton Square, where many of the most prominent men in England have their London homes.

Shots were fired after they down the narrow streets through which they fled past houses of titled personages and cabinet ministers who were within earshot when Wilson was killed.

The murderers turned and fired at their pursuers, keeping up a running fight for three-quarters of a mile.

Lord Carson, Ulster's champion, has a town house within a few rods of the scene of the murder. It is constantly guarded by special policemen.

AMERICAN OFFICIAL IS WITNESS TO TRAGEDY.

An official of the American relief administration assisted in the capture of the murderers.

Describing the attack to the United Press, this official said:

Sir Henry was alighting from an automobile from in front of his home in Eaton Square. The assassins were fired after they came to the corner, waiting for him. They seized him and shot him dead.

The murderers then walked into the center of the street and began to make their getaway. They waved revolvers and a policeman who attempted to halt them was shot through the stomach.

The assassins proceeded about four or five blocks, shooting at intervals.

UNARMED OFFICER FELS SLAYER WITH HIS CLUB.

An unarmed policeman, ahead of the murderers, awaited their approach at a street corner. As they came to the corner, he leaped out and struck one of them on the head with his night stick, felling the man. Three or four of us grabbed the other and pulled him down.

The American administration relief worker said:

The coolness of the assassins was remarkable. Both talked with a decided brogue. One said: "You wouldn't have got us if you had given us a few minutes more."

Both were about 26 or 27 years old. One was heavy set, the other small.

Poison Forced On Woman By Two Men

ATLANTA, Ga., June 22.—Mrs. W. B. Wood is in a critical condition as the result of injuries sustained today when two men seized her as she stepped from her home at Buckhead, a suburb, fastened a rope about her neck and attempted to force her to drink from a bottle of poison.

In the struggle the poison was spilled on Mrs. Wood, and she is suffering severe burns on the neck and shoulders. She was dragged to the front of an adjoining church, bound, gagged and left.

Mrs. Wood was to have appeared in court today in a damage suit.

Tokyo Privy Council Approves Yip Pact

TOKYO, June 22.—(By the Associated Press).—The Yip treaty with the United States was approved by the privy council and Japanese prime minister yesterday.

The treaty fixes the rights of each nation in the island, which is under Japanese mandate.

The government's position on the Yip question was deemed unsatisfactory by the committee which investigated the treaty for the privy council and the committee requested the government to use greater care in the future in such grave negotiations. However the committee reported the treaty favorably to the council through desire to respect the foreign relations of the empire and the spirit of the Washington conference.

BOARD PROVIDES FUNDS TO ASSIST LIVERMORE RODEO

Five Hundred Dollars Appropriated By Supervisors For Annual Show.

Five hundred dollars was given to the Livermore Stockmen's Association by the board of supervisors today to assist in the expense of the forthcoming Livermore rodeo.

When the appeal was made for the fund by Thomas Callahan, representing the stockmen, there were only three supervisors in attendance. Supervisor R. C. Staats has opposed moves of this sort in the past and in order to secure passage of the measure Chairman W. H. Hamilton called Staats to the chair and thus was enabled to second and pass the motion appropriating the money.

MEMORIAL TO HEROES. According to Callahan, the appropriation is needed in order that the rodeo may be a success and add the necessary money needed for the construction of the $30,000 memorial to the 301 soldiers and sailors who enlisted in Livermore and lost their lives.

The board today instructed the Alameda county architect and purchasing agent to use Alameda county products or those equally as good in all construction work and supplies for county institutions.

The county clerk was instructed to notify the Standard Construction Company, which is behind schedule on the construction of an overhead crossing at Altamont that an extension of time would not be granted.

The board also refused to re-sell to E. Jorgenson of Crow Canyon the acreage obtained from him several years ago for a reservoir to provide water supply in case of fire at the county infirmary.

LAW CHANGE URGED.

The district attorney was this morning requested to prepare a resolution calling for a vote on the repealing of the November election of the ordinance prohibiting the supervisors from purchasing land for public building sites without approval of the people.

Supervisor Charles Hoyer explained that unless this ordinance is repealed it will be impossible to secure a site for a new court house, as the red tape attendant on the reference to the people of all sites suggested would result in the ultimate loss of the choice sites.

The board was advised that the Alameda county exhibit in San Francisco will be removed to the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. This action was forced by the owners of the San Francisco building, according to the report.

Shocks Civilization, Pershing Declares

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(By International News Service)—News of the assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson came as a profound shock to officers of the United States who served with him in France and England during the world war. General John J. Pershing, chief of staff of the army, issued a statement declaring that the killing of Wilson was an "outrage that must shock civilization."

DANCE NO SHOES. DEPAWDE, Eng.—The county guardians have refused to issue free shoes to indigent parents who let their daughters attend dances.

English Field Marshal Assassinated in London

to put up a fight. He hammered the police with his fists and was badly beaten before he could be subdued.

Another witness to the shooting said Wilson was alighting from a taxicab before his home and the assassins fired from behind a carriage drawn up at the curb. Wilson leaped up the steps leading to his home and tried to open the front door.

A volley was fired, one shot striking the field marshal in the head. He reeled, fell down the stairs and collapsed, dead, in a pool of blood.

Another eye witness to the tragedy told the United Press the following story:

I was in the neighborhood of Eaton Square and heard shots ring out. I looked in time to see two armed men pumping bullets from their revolvers into the body of Sir Henry. When I reached him, his head, legs and chest were literally riddled with bullets.

Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson was Great Britain's representative on the allied supreme council which dictated allied military policy during the latter part of the war.

He was chief of staff of the British army. In the latter capacity he was responsible for sending troops to Ireland during recent trouble.

EXPONENT OF 'MAILED FIST' POLICY IN IRELAND.

Sir Henry was an exponent of the "mailed fist" policy towards Ireland and was a strong supporter of Ulster. He incurred the enmity of Southern Irish extremists after the withdrawal of Sir General Neville MacReady, who was not popular, despite his position. Wilson, however, was bitterly hated by Republicans.

Sir Henry Wilson was 58 years old. He entered the service in 1884 and won many decorations in his rise to field marshal. He was created a baronet in 1919.

In 1914 when the war broke out, Wilson was assistant chief of the general staff under Lord French. He served as liaison officer with the French and later represented Great Britain at Versailles when the supreme military council was established in 1917. He was chief of the imperial general staff and a member of Lloyd George's war cabinet from 1918 until last year.

The Earl of Cavan is now chief of the imperial general staff.

SIX MEN BELIEVED IMPLICATED IN PLOT.

LONDON, June 22.—(By the Associated Press).—Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, chief of the British imperial general staff and lately military advisor to the Ulster government, was assassinated today near the door of his home in Eaton Place, London.

Two men fired upon the field marshal as he was alighting from an automobile, after delivering a speech at a war memorial unveiling. Struck by two bullets, he staggered and fell. He was carried into his home, where he died before the arrival of physicians.

SIX MEN BELIEVED IMPLICATED IN PLOT.

Six men are believed to have been implicated in the attack and a house to house search by detectives was made this afternoon in the vicinity of the crime.

One of the captured men, who is very tall, declared he was an officer. Blood was streaming from his face and a cut caused by some one striking him with a bottle. It took four men to carry him to the police station. His companion is a man of very short stature.

Policeman Marsh, who was near Field Marshal Wilson when he was fired on, died later in a hospital from wounds received while pursuing the assassins.

A workman, who saw the shooting, said that as the victim alighted a man standing in the middle of the road fired a shot, and another was fired by a man standing on the corner, a door or two away. "One of the shots struck the panel of the door of the Wilson home. The field marshal dodged, this account says, and the first shots missed him. He turned and faced his assailants, who fired two more shots, one striking him in the chest and the other in the head."

MYSTERIOUS VEHICLE FLIES FROM SCENE.

The field marshal made a desperate attempt to open the door with his latch key, but staggered down the steps and fell, unconscious, on the sidewalk.

Some men standing in the roadway, this witness added, seemed to be hiding behind a brougham. The vehicle mysteriously vanished as soon as the firing began and the men started running in different directions.

Lady Wilson was in the dining room when she heard a shot. She ran out to the street and was horrified to find her husband prostrate on the pavement. She felt the body and kissed her husband, exclaiming: "You have died a soldier's death; God will be merciful to you."

The death of Field Marshal Wilson was announced in the House of Commons by Austin Chamberlain, the government leader, who moved the adjournment of the house as a mark of mourning.

Man Kills Sheriff And Pastor, Defies Posse, Kills Self

feared, however, that West might mistake the coroner for a would-be captor, so attempt to remove the bodies was made.

West, an expert shot with the rifle from his long experience in hunting wild animals, shot and killed both Kendall and Healy without warning. The minister had accompanied the sheriff as a spectator.

Arriving at the West ranch about 3 o'clock, the sheriff and minister first located the still and then called at West's home and interviewed him. Following this the sheriff and minister left the house and started toward the still for the purpose of destroying it.

West's wife and his niece, Mrs. Harry De Atley, who were at the house, said that they heard the aged trapper mutter something about not allowing his still to be destroyed. Then, he said, he took his high-powered rifle and started to leave the house. The two women pleaded with him not to take the gun, but he refused to listen to their pleas and left the house.

SITS FOR HOURS WITH RIFLE ON HIS KNEES.

Shortly after West had stepped outside they heard two shots and then West returned to the house and informed them that he had killed the two men.

After the shooting West returned to the house and sat down in his chair with the rifle between his knees. He informed the women that he would not be taken alive. About 4:30 o'clock Mrs. West summoned up courage and telephoned to Plainview for Harry De Atley to come to the ranch. When he arrived West still was sitting in the chair with his rifle, apparently calm, and determined not to surrender. He told De Atley to tell the coroner to come and get the bodies of his two victims, but said that if any one else should attempt to enter the yard he would shoot them.

TWO KILLED BY BELFAST SNIPERS AND TORCH PLIED

Two Buildings Are Destroyed By Incendiaries; Erin Rebels Raid Railway.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEADER WIRE TEL. BELFAST, June 22.—Two persons were killed here early today by snipers. Incendiaries were active and two buildings were destroyed by fire.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEADER WIRE TEL. BELFAST, June 22.—Irregulars took possession today of the much-raided Burnfort railway station in Donegal, holding up all the Londonderry-Loughswilly trains.

They hoisted a republican flag and posted notice stating that any person offering interference would be shot.

BELFAST, June 22 (By the Associated Press).—Cathel O'Shannon, successful Labor candidate for parliament in Louth and Meath, declared in a speech at Drougheda last night that there was one point in the proposed constitution for Ireland which the Labor party would oppose to the death. They would fight any provision that any judge and any court of Ireland could decide that an act passed by the Irish parliament was illegal or unconstitutional. In other words, that the man whom the people sent to parliament "could be overridden and trampled under foot" on the veto of a single judge.

"We are damned if we are going to have that, and you will be damned if you allow it," he exclaimed.

The charter of Irish liberty, said O'Shannon, should be above the treaty.

The Irish constitution under the Free State treaty provides that superior judges shall be appointed by the crown.

CORK, June 22 (By the Associated Press).—The North, West and South Cork elections will be invalid, it was announced today because when counting of the votes began this morning it was seen that they had been tampered with.

Taft on Scene Just Before the Tragedy

LONDON, June 22.—(By the Associated Press).—Following the assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, one of the assassins ran toward Eaton Place, passing 29 Chesham Place, which is the residence of George Harvey, American ambassador. Shortly before this Chief Justice William Howard Taft, of the United States Supreme Court, had entered the ambassador's house.

Final Speech Pays Tribute to Fallen

LONDON, June 22.—Just an hour before he was assassinated today Field Marshal Henry H. Wilson made an address at the unveiling of a soldiers' monument, saying: "We soldiers count our gains and our losses by the number of those men whom we loved and honored most that died in the great cause."

HUSBANDS TAKE WIVES ON MOTOR TRIP

"Oh, come in, dear, I'm so glad you came over this morning. I was just going to call you up. Wasn't it dear of our husbands to plan that interesting outing for next week?"

"I should say so. I always have wanted to go on that trip to the Sierras. Of course they wanted to go fishing and they thought they had better take us along so they could stay longer."

"I guess you are right. We will have a wonderful time, though. I feel the need of some exercise and it will be such fun to hike up a mountain or two, as well as take those wonderful drives in the cars."

"Oh I can hardly wait to get started. Shall we plan to get all our own meals or stop at different places for them?"

"Oh why not do both. We could start out with a whole boiled ham and a few things like that, and when we get to any interesting place we could take a meal occasionally. The real camping out appeals to me though."

"It does to me, too. I don't know what to wear, either. I have half a notion to get one of those knicker suits. I wonder if they are frightfully expensive."

"Not a bit of it if you get it at Cherry's, 515 13th street, you know. They have stunning three piece tweed suits, skirts, knickers and jacket for only $25.00. And you know you can buy them on credit. They make wonderful arrangements for payments. One can have six months to pay, if they like."

Cherry's store for men is at 528 13th street.—Advertisement.

ESTUARY PLANTS PROPOSE TUNNEL INSTEAD OF SPAN

Petition Sent Supervisors Tells Advantages of Tube Over Bridge.

Petitioning that a tunnel or a tube be used instead of the proposed bascule bridge across the estuary, a letter signed by the heads of practically every industry along the estuary, representing some of the biggest marine interests in the bay district, was presented to the board of supervisors of Alameda county today.

After the letter had been read, Chairman William Hamilton was authorized to appoint a committee composed of the petitioners, who will appear before the board meeting next Thursday and present more fully their reasons for the suggested change. Chairman Hamilton late today said that he had not yet decided who, or how many would be named on the committee. The letter said a tube beneath the estuary would give a full unobstructed entrance of 600 feet to the harbor on either side. According to the petitioners, they have secured estimated upkeep costs and while on a tube crossing it would be nothing on a bascule.

Loganberries are here. They are plentiful and seasonably priced. Serve fresh loganberries or loganberry pie tonight. Enjoyable for a few weeks only. The season is short.

Girl, 20, Cares For Five Upon Small Stipend

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—A 20-year-old girl, who for four years has been mothering five children, succeeding on a slender stipend and by a display of amazing business acumen, appeared in Superior Judge Graham's court today. She is Mary Camelia, of 73 Boardman place. Her story of her household management and economies fell upon an absorbed audience. She appeared to render a final accounting in the estate of her mother, Amelia, who died in 1918, of influenza. The father, Tony Camelia, died in 1914.

Mary introduced the other members of the family. Joseph, 16, an apprenticed carpenter; John, 15, learning to be a machinist; Peter, 12, who has ambitions as a lawyer, but is now substitute cook in the household; Frank, 9, who wants to be a jeweler and works in a gem shop after school; and Alaina, 6, who is not sure whether she would prefer being a nurse or a school teacher.

Miss Camelia explained that when her mother died she gathered her brothers and sisters about her and apportioned the household. She received $61 monthly from the estate, $50 from the savings of the children and, when more is needed, she takes in upholstery piecework on her own account.

Asked by the court if she had not had numerous proposals of marriage she blushingly admitted its truth, but explained that she "already had one family to take care of" and must put off matrimony for the present.

WIFE ASKS DIVORCE

MARTINEZ, June 22.—Charging her husband with intemperance, Nellie C. Green of Martinez today filed suit for divorce against Wm. S. Green. She asks $60 monthly for support of the children. They were married in 1907.

bridge it would be around $50,000 a year.

The following concerns signed the petition: Pacific Tank and Pipe Company, Bonds and Tibbitts, shipbuilding; Bristol Bay Packing Co., E. K. Woods Lumber Co., Alaska Packers' Association, W. P. Stone & Son, Pacific Bifet Engine Co., Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, James Robertson & Son, Crowley Shipyard, E. H. Nielsen Co., Charles Nelson Co., Sunset Lumber Co., American Dredging Co., Golden Gate Dredging Co., Harris Electric Co., Oakland Launch and Tugboat Co., Hunt, Hatch & Co., Rhodes, Jamison & Co., Broward Co., Lawrence Warehouse Co., Standard Oil Co., Hanlon Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Co., and the Rolph Navigation Coal Co.

RAILWAY STRIKE VOTE CANVASS TO BEGIN SATURDAY

General Manager of S. P.
Asks Employees Not to Join Walkout.

CINCINNATI, June 22.—(By the Associated Press).—The canvass of the strike vote cast by six railroad shopcraft unions will begin at Chicago on Saturday, according to the announcement here today of B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—(By International News Service).—J. H. Dyer, general manager of the Southern Pacific railroad, today issued an appeal to shop and maintenance of way employees to vote against the proposed strike to "prove that a railroad strike is not as has been frequently charged, a mere formality about which the men themselves do not exercise their own judgment and discretion."

Dyer's statement pointed out that there was no issue on the Southern Pacific system of contracting shop plants to outsiders and presented a table of wages showing percentage of increases since 1917.

Gompers Regrets Killing of Miners

CINCINNATI, June 22.—(By International News Service).—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, when shown despatches from Herrin, Ill., citing the massacre of non-union coal miners after they had been taken prisoner by striking union miners, said:

"I regret, yes, regret the resort of violence in the Herrin strike. The strike of miners is on such a high plane of principle it must depend on the solidarity of action, but need not, and ought not, to fall upon physical force."

surface colliery in union and took the mine employees prisoners. The prisoners then were divided among groups of the strikers and taken in different directions.

STATE SENATOR TO ACT AS PEACEMAKER.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 22.—(By the Associated Press).—Senator William J. Snedden, of Herrin, the only "union man" in the state constitutional convention assembled here, announced at noon today that he would leave immediately for Herrin to act as peacemaker.

"I will go to take personal charge of the situation," Senator Snedden said. He said Director Medill of the Department of Mines and Minerals, accompanied by A. W. Kerr, counsel for the United Mine Workers, left here last night for Herrin, and Senator Snedden would have gone with them had consideration of the Labor article in the constitutional convention today not hindered him.

Adjutant-General Black reached Colton Hunter at Marion at noon today and directed him to investigate the report that 26 or more miners had been killed.

Sheriff Melvin Tilton of Williamson county was called by Adjutant-General Black this afternoon to say what measures he had taken to protect life and property at Herrin. The general called attention to press reports of 26 killed, and to the further fact that no appeal for help had been received here.

GOVERNMENT WILL NOT INTERVENE.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The government will take no steps to intervene in the strike trouble in Illinois, Attorney-General Daugherty said today. The situation, Daugherty said, can be coped with by State authorities.

HOMES OF COAL MINERS DYNAMITED.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 22.—Dynamiting of homes of coal miners who refuse to join the ranks of the strikers was renewed in Fayette county late last night and early today. The side of the house of Charles A. Fisher of Fairchance was blown out and every window in the structure broken when a bomb was hurled against the structure just before midnight. A bomb was set off alongside the home of J. N. S. at Fairchance just before day. Considerable damage resulted, one was hurt in either explosion.

Witnesses Declare Attack Is Massacre

BY UNITED PRESS.

LEADERS WERE TRIBE. MARION, Ill., June 22.—Massacre of strike-breakers by a mob of strike sympathizers, was reported by eye witnesses arriving in Marion. The eye witnesses claimed to have seen the shooting in a woods near the mine.

The strikebreakers were taken prisoners as they were leaving the mine when it closed down early today.

They were surrounded by a mob of 1500 strike sympathizers and a march to Herrin started. During the march, firing broke out in the ranks of the rioters, according to reports given the National Guard officers sent to the scene yesterday at the outbreak of the rioting.

When the firing had ceased, these reports said, 26 bodies of the strike-breakers were counted.

Two were killed in the rioting yesterday. Immediately after the reports, Colonel Hunter left for the scene of the rioting to make a thorough survey of conditions. Three companies of state militia were held in readiness to move immediately into the riot zone.

Mine strikers and sympathizers from surrounding mining towns gathered in Marion by the hundreds early today.

After a meeting in the public square, the crowds of rioters marched toward the pit.

They stormed a stockade which had been erected around the mine, wrecked the workings, blew up buildings with dynamite which they obtained in raids on hardware stores at Herrin and Marion.

All sheriffs' deputies, police and guard officers in this section were despatched to the scene but were unable to cope with the mob.

S. K. McDowell, superintendent of the Southern Illinois Coal Company, was reported beaten to death. Steam shovels were blown to pieces in powerful explosions heard for many miles. Spur tracks were ripped out and buildings blown up.

Don't Spoil Your Child's Hair By Washing It

When you wash your child's hair be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is Mulified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulified in a cup of glass with a little warm water is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water, and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. You can get Mulified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. Be sure you are using the genuine Mulified. Advertisement.

McCORMACK OUT AS PROHIBITION OFFICIAL IN S. F.

Assistant Prosecutor Is Relieved of Duties in Cases of Dry Law Violations.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Assistant United States Attorney General Robert H. McCormack was relieved of duty from the attorney-general in Washington, D. C., from conducting Volstead Act prosecutions yesterday.

The attorney-general's telegram was in reply to a communication from United States Attorney John T. Williams, stating that McCormack had been absent from his office for over a week.

The telegram was read in Federal Judge Maurice T. Doelling's court, in which a prohibition case set for trial by McCormack was pending.

McCormack had previously been relieved from prosecuting another case. On that occasion, also, instructions were received from the attorney-general in Washington.

Pending further instructions, United States Attorney John T. Williams will handle all prohibition matters.

MORPHINISM IS DECLARED CHIEF CAUSE OF CRIME

CHICAGO, June 22.—A cure for morphinism would decrease criminality, according to C. Edouard Sandoz, medical director of the municipal court of Boston.

"Morphinism, in a majority of our morphine cases, is the main determining cause of criminality," Sandoz declared in a report published in the Journal of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology.

"Vandals are possible in practically every case. We have no medical institutions in which addicts without means are kept long enough to have a chance to be cured. Under these conditions a sentence of several months, the longer the better, is the best thing that can happen to them. There is need of special institutions."

"Almost all our cases are below par from the point of view of economic efficiency. Now, since morphine is more essential for addicts than anything else, there is no practical alternative for those who do not have the means and so not get cured but to turn to illegitimate ways of getting money."

BURGULAR STEEPLECHASE.
CHICAGO.—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Follows discovered a burglar in their home and pursued him over hedges and gardens until he ran into the arms of a policeman.

200 CHILDREN ARE GUESTS AT LION CLUB LUNCHEON

Every Member Brings Child—H. C. Capwell Makes Address.

More than 200 children gathered in the main ball room of the Hotel Oakland yesterday at luncheon as guests of the Oakland Lions Club, at the first "Children's Day" ever given by that organization.

At the conclusion of the meeting it was decided to make "Children's Day" an annual event with the club. The ball room was decorated with flowers, streamers and toy balloons. A special program of entertainment for the little guests was presented. Every member of the club brought a child as his guest.

The principal speaker was H. C. Capwell, who congratulated the club on the luncheon and declared that he hoped it would be an annual affair in the future.

"We should all try to keep young by our associations," said Capwell. "It is a great thing to see a body of business men like you taking such an active interest in the younger generation. This cannot be overdone."

"Any man who permits himself to grow away from his childhood the greatest moments in my day is when I pass the school ground on my way to the office and stop and watch the kiddies at their games for a few moments. It brings back memories of the past and I seem to see myself a boy again."

"I hope I never get so old that I can't get a thrill out of watching these boys and girls."

Capwell declared that it was the duty of each man and woman to work for better manhood and womanhood. He told of his trip in womanhood and how it brought back to his mind fairy tales that he read as a boy.

In concluding, Capwell boosted all luncheon clubs and said that they were an important factor in community life.

The chairman of the committee arranging yesterday's entertainment was Edgar E. Barber. The program consisted of vocal numbers and dances and vaudeville acts. Two of the juvenile dancers were Hermie and Katherine Brown.

Friends Church to Enter New Fields

WHITTIER, June 22.—Permission to establish churches in new fields has been granted the Friends Church and church extension board by the delegates to the yearly meeting here of the Friends Church, in California.

A recommendation to continue self-denial week, was adopted. Those in attendance included Friends from Idaho, North Carolina, Guatemala and London.

Today's sessions were to be devoted to activities of Bible schools.

Man With Broken Neck May Survive

COLUMBUS, Ga., June 22.—Although B. L. Smith lies in the City Hospital here with his neck broken in two places as the result of a dive into a shallow swimming pool, physicians believe he has a chance of recovery. The accident occurred Sunday night and after Smith lived for thirty-six hours surgeons decided on an operation. Shattered bones were freed from the spinal column and other parts removed and the doctors now say he may overcome the trouble.

Citizenship Boost Lecture Arranged

Charles H. Seccombe, an attorney, will speak on "Wealth and Commonwealth," tomorrow evening at the American Institute, 865 Eighteenth street. The talk will be given in connection with a series of fellowship meetings which are being held by the Sons and Daughters of Washington. In promotion of citizenship, John T. Brown, well known harmonica player, will render several solos.

LETTERS FROM HOME.
Huddled we found Bruce Walters and as we bade him goodnight Kitty remarked casually: "I didn't know, Bruce that you knew Julian Thorndyke."

"I don't. One of the fellows brought him in. I think he told me he knew him when Thorndyke and you were together in vaudeville. Is that why you are going home, Kitty? Are you determined that 'The tender grace of a day that is dead shall never come back to you'?"

"Not if I can help it, Bruce. But Tony Melville must have taken a great shine to Julian. He is playing a dope fiend, you know."

Bruce eyed Thorndyke through narrowed lids and then murmured sententiously: "He should do it well. Good night, Kitty. Awfully sorry the man is here. If you want me to, I will ask him to leave. I didn't invite him."

"Oh, don't do that. I wouldn't have you do that for the world."

"What are you afraid of? He can't hurt you."

"You don't know him, Bruce."

"I know the general caliber of the men who take dope and they are all cowards."

"Or selfish fiends," Kitty added.

Contrary to my expectations, Kitty said never a word as we rode home in the taxi, and still without speaking except when absolutely necessary, she went to bed.

I had found a number of letters in my box and opened them with more interest than I had had recently in letters from home. I had told Eddie Montforth a great deal of my new job and Theodore Stratton in my last letter and I wanted to know what he thought of it all. My childhood lover's letter read: "My Dear Virginia: The blow has fallen. It's just what I thought would happen. You have fallen in love with a man who didn't tell me, but it was written between the lines."

"I have seen Stratton on the screen. He looks almost old enough to be your father."

"Forgive me, Virginia. I do not intend to be sarcastic, but I have loved you ever since I knew how to spell the word, and I want you to be happy."

"I am so glad you have a good part, but honestly, I am sorry that you got it through Stratton's interest in you instead of your own worth."

Eddie's letter ended abruptly.

"Eddie, Eddie, you don't know that in this game everything goes by favor."

"I didn't know that I was talking out loud until I heard Kitty say, 'What are you talking about?'"

"Eddie Montforth is coming out very soon, Kitty."

"You will have some little chance for diplomacy during that time, Virginia."

"Well, it is some time off and us Rita would say: 'It will be another day.'"

"By the way, did you get a letter from Rita, Virginia? I have just been reading the one she wrote me and she gives me the surprising news that she is still happy. That Herb is an angel, and they are blissfully contented in Hawaii."

Since I had learned the essence of the news from Gloria I left her letter to me until the last.

Next I opened a thick one from Aunt Virginia. After telling me all the neighborhood gossip and the little affairs of the household, she wrote: "I have never known anyone to fall so rapidly. Virginia, as your grandfather has since you left."

"He never has mentioned your name, but the other morning I followed him to the stables and found him with his arm around Streak's neck. I wonder if I have told you that he has never allowed your horse to be used by anyone on the place."

"The grooms take him out for exercise and then take him back in the stable, and that is all."

"He didn't see me, Virginia, because I knew it would hurt his pride, but he looked rather pitiful, yet almost tragic with his withered old cheek against the blaze of your horse's forehead."

"The horse whinnied under his caress and, Virginia, don't think me fanciful, but it seemed to me that though there was sadness in the sound."

"Your grandfather thought so, too. I distinctly heard him say: 'Yes, Streak, I know. I know. You miss her too!'"

JURY WALKS 8 MILES IN RAIN TO VIEW BODY

PRESCOTT, Ariz., June 22.—Louis Borret, 33, a lone prospector, was found dead from a bullet wound yesterday in a mine in the hills near here which he located 47 years ago. A coroner's jury was compelled to tramp eight miles in a downpour of rain to view the body. The verdict was suicide. Borret left a note which read, "Find twenty dollars. Bury me here. No coffin. Good-bye."

SPEED AND JAZZ HELD BARRIER TO ALL PROGRESS

Charles Keeler Talks At Luncheon on "Relation of Art to Business."

"We are living in an age of speed and jazz—an age that can also be appropriately called an age of Edison and Henry Ford," Charles Keeler, secretary of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce told members of the Progressive Business Club at their luncheon at the Hotel Oakland yesterday.

Keeler spoke on "The Relation of Art to Business," and in conclusion advocated what he called a "subsidy for artists," which would allow composers and writers to create their work without fear of poverty.

All civilization is judged by its worth by works of art, the speaker said. "We think of our age as the greatest in the history of the world. As a material age it is, but in things of art it counts for nothing. America has made great practical inventions, but has contributed nothing to art."

SPEED-JAZZ AGE.
"This is an age of speed and jazz. Our young people are going too fast in their manner of living. However, we can't blame them."

"Have we functioned as a nation in art? Have we produced the architecture, drama, music, etc., as a nation of our size should? No. The excuse has been offered that we are too young, but that is no real excuse. It is because we haven't paid enough attention to a thing that is so essential."

"Recently we have been hearing a great deal about the so-called new art. This new art is rotten. It is bolshevik. It has a real connection with the bolshevik. The world doesn't move through the scrapping of the past, but through preserving it. If we try to scrap the past we will be where Russia is today. As business men it is our duty to maintain the ideals and principles for which the nation stands."

DECLINE IN ART.
Keeler declared that one of the reasons for the fact that no real art has been produced recently was that there was no material compensation for the artists, and that they were beginning to drop their original composition to earn money as teachers.

"The more vulgar, suggestive and indecent that jazz music can be, providing it is kept within the law," said Keeler, "the more the people want to buy it, and that is the reason the jazz song writers are today making millions of dollars, while the composers of real good music, music which means something, are unable to support themselves by their work."

Keeler declared that there should be some kind of a national provision for artists so that they could work without worrying whether their work would be sold or not.

SHOTS FIRED BY POLICE DURING MORNING CHASE

Louis J. Kerrigan Held On Complaint Filed By His Sister.

After a chase of several blocks, during which three shots were fired, Louis J. Kerrigan, who is alleged to have broken into the home of his sister at 5629 San Pablo avenue, was captured at 3 o'clock this morning.

Policemen Pat McTigue, C. O. Brockwick and L. P. Reedy responded to the call. When they arrived at the house they found that the man had made his escape. They searched the neighborhood and saw him walking down the street. When he saw the officers he started to run. Policeman Reedy commanded him to halt and when he refused to obey the command the officer fired three shots into the air.

TRIPPED OVER WIRE.

At San Pablo and Stanford avenues Kerrigan tripped and fell on a wire which was stretched across the lawn. The officers, who were close behind him, grabbed him before he had time to get on his feet. He was cut and bruised from the fall.

While taking him to the Emergency Hospital in the patrol wagon to have his wounds dressed Kerrigan is accused of attacking Reedy and McTigue, who were in the wagon with him. They were commanded to use their batons in order to put the handcuffs on the prisoner.

WAS SEEKING CHILDREN.

Early in the evening Kerrigan had been arrested at the home of his sister by Sergeant J. W. Maxey on a warrant charging him with disturbing the peace. He was released on bail and later returned to the house.

According to the police, he and his wife are having family trouble and their children are living at the home of his sister. The police say he wanted to get them when he broke into the house this morning. He is being held in the city prison for further investigation.

Blind Man Passed Up By Illinois Robbers

LITCHFIELD, Ill., June 20.—In days of old when knights were bold chivalry held sway. The nobleness of ye olden days is being reflected in some of the modern robberies. A display such as would possibly command the respect of the chivalrous knight was made in a holdup of a pool room here in which all present were lined against the wall and stripped of their valuables.

When the proprietor informed the bandits it made no difference who he stood, as his eyeight was gone, he was not robbed or molested.

Eva Novak Bride Of Camera Man

RIVERSIDE, June 22.—Eva Novak, motion picture actress, and William Richard Reed, cameraman, both of Los Angeles, were married here late yesterday. ## TAFT ACCORDED HIGH HONOR AT BRITISH COURT

LONDON, June 22 (By the Associated Press).—The social status of an American ex-president and his wife at the court of St. James has been fixed as second only to that of the British royals in consequence of the presentation to the British sovereigns yesterday of Chief Justice Taft of the United States and Mrs. Taft.

The precedent is that an American ex-president does not bow before the king and his wife does not curtsy to the queen.

As chief justice, Taft, like a chief judicial official of any other country, would have been presented in the usual way, and there seemed no method of making an exception until King George expressed the wish that Mr. and Mrs. Taft be accorded the honors granted former chiefs of European powers.

So, instead of passing before their majesties with a bow and curtsy, Mr. and Mrs. Taft were received privately by the king and queen and the members of the family in the picture gallery of Buckingham Palace, a half hour before the formal ceremony. They accompanied the monarchs to the throne-room, where Taft stood at the right of the king and Mrs. Taft to the left of the queen. Taft wore judicial robes and Mrs. Taft was in full court dress.

The first ten verses of the Te Deum are said to date back to the second century.

MOTHER AND SON UNITED AFTER FIFTEEN YEARS

TULARE, June 22.—Harry Bowman left his home in Kansas for San Francisco 15 years ago. He had been believed dead by his family for 15 years. He had been legally dead for eight years. Today he appeared at the home of his mother, Mrs. P. D. Fowler, in Tulare. He was instantly recognized. A happy reunion followed.

The son is an engineer, employed by the Great Northern railway at Vancouver. He came to San Francisco for the Shrine convention, and learning that his mother was in Tulare came here.

U. S. C. PLANS TO RAISE TEN MILLION

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—A campaign for a building and endowment fund of $10,000,000 has been begun here by the University of Southern California. It is planned to form a committee of 10,000 of the 60,000 Methodists in Southern California to conduct the campaign in the southern part of the state. With nearly 8000 students, the resources of $800 students, the resources of the university have been taxed in the last year.

If the $10,000,000 is obtained it is planned to devote half of it to buildings and the other half to a permanent endowment fund.

HAVANA PAPER DENOUNCES U. S. INTERVENTION

HAVANA, June 22.—La Nacion, an afternoon newspaper, today launched another bitter attack against the United States. The attack, which is printed on the first page of the newspaper under a seven-column head, declares that "hatred of the American must be our new religion."

The newspaper asserts that gratitude for American cooperation during the last years of the revolution against Spain, which would have been won anyway, has blinded Cuba to the sinister moves of the United States, which only intervened in the revolution to secure control of the island.

The newspaper's attacks, which followed the recent cabinet reconstruction, have accused the Washington government of imposing the reform cabinet on President Zayas. They also have contained the charge that Carlos M. de Cespedes, minister at Washington, was chosen as secretary of state in the new cabinet so that when President Zayas and Vice-President Carrillo are de-

BANDIT SUSPECTS ARE IDENTIFIED

FRESNO, June 22.—Suspicion which led to the arrest of Elmer Wheadon and Lester Harvey Tuesday by Inspector Alex Castellon, was confirmed early yesterday afternoon when the prisoners were identified by O. M. Perry, Modesto Southern Pacific agent, as the bandits who, Monday morning, robbed the Modesto Southern Pacific railroad station.

Berry told local officers that Wheadon was the man who leaped over the counter, held him up and rifled the safe of $300.

Harvey, police say, worked with Wheadon and held up persons in the station while Wheadon was robbing the station agent. R. L. Radcliffe, theatrical man, who saved $400 when he dropped his wallet between his feet, will be in Fresno today to identify Harvey.

Civilian Employees' Bonus Bill Passed

WASHINGTON, June 22.—A $40,000,000 bonus for civilian employees of the government was passed yesterday by the House after overruling the appropriations committee which had cut the individual payments from $240 to $180. The vote was 220 to 38.

"PUSSYFOOT" TO RISK OTHER EYE TO DRY ENGLAND

NEW YORK, June 22.—"I'd give my other eye to make England dry. It would be well worth it."
"Pussyfoot" Johnson, rum's arch enemy, made his assertion today in an interview with the United Press as he sailed on the Cunarder Scythia.
When informed London was awaiting his arrival and planned to greet him with stones, overgrown tomatoes and aged eggs, the prohibitionist batted them off. "Say, that's great. Let 'em come. I can fight."
"And tell them England will be dry by 1925, if not sooner."

SHERIFF HALTS PETTING PARTIES IN RURAL WOODS

Official Ban Placed on Popular Youthful Pastime of Loving.

LIMA, Ohio, June 22.—Charles W. Baxter, sheriff, has joined the crusade against dappers and has issued instructions to his deputies, ordering them to call a halt on "petting parties" on county highways.
Complaints were beginning to pour into the sheriff's office from farm wives, who have been aroused from their slumbers at night by the appearance of automobiles, sometimes only a little ways from their door. The cars stopped, turned out the lights and remained for some time.
"Petting parties" are held and must be stamped out," Baxter says, referring to motor spooning.

He, she and the automobile have been frequenting country roads. He and she do not need much room, and even with the car it's hardly a crowd.
A twist of the wrist and the lights are out. Mother's home or at the movies. Daughter has only moonshine (both varieties sometimes) to guide her.
Turning out motor lights on the highway is an offense against the law and deputies are out with strict orders to take license numbers in all cases where such conditions are found. Arrests, the sheriff says, will follow.

So "Pinch the Petters" follows "Swat the Pies."
Last season, hundreds of complaints were made to Baxter by Allen county farmers. By the time officers arrived on the scene the party had moved.

But this season it's going to be different.
Three deputies, each with a touring car, are going to patrol all roads.

Sultan May Ride in Closed American Car

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 22.—Anxiety for the safety of the sultan of Turkey has prompted the local authorities to consider the substitution of a closed American automobile for the time-honored open barouche in which the head of Islam every Friday is borne to prayer from the Yildiz palace to his private mosque. This public "going-to-prayer" ceremony has existed from the time of Mahomet and is one of the few remaining royal spectacles to be witnessed in Europe today.

Every Friday at high noon thousands of the faithful, as well as hundreds of foreign visitors, flock to the outskirts of Constantinople to witness the Turkish potentate followed by a dignified entourage, riding in a gilded carriage to do honor to Allah. Throngs of Turkish soldiers, sailors, firemen and policemen line the curbstones and guard with alert and furtive eyes "the sickest man in Europe."

New English Laws Give Aid to Wives

LONDON, June 22.—Another step has been taken in the direction of securing for wives equality of treatment with husbands so far as the law is concerned. The House of Commons has given a second reading to the "Separation and Maintenance Order Bill," to give it its cumbersome official title. It is designed to straighten some matrimonial tangles and remove various matrimonial infelicities which are largely attributed to the fact that in many ways the law does not treat the sexes alike.

As the law now stands, according to the sponsor for the bill, Sir Robert Newman, a wife who wishes to prove cruelty against her husband has to leave home first, and she is torn between fear of him and fear of abandoning her children in his charge.

43 years of underselling capably demonstrated

In this our most tremendous and successful sale—we owe this much to you to say, it "beat" all former sales records. It far outshone anything ever attempted by us in a merchandise way—and all due to your splendid co-operation and belief in us.

About twenty-five years ago—long before advertising was believed—our late President, Solomon Kahn—told the advertising man who brought him an anniversary sale ad, to first verify every single statement therein, and after so doing to put these words in editorial form: "Every item herein mentioned is true in its fullest, literal sense."

That is the same policy of this store today and that policy is responsible for the faith and trust Oakland people have placed in Kahn's for years and its merchandise and in its advertisements. That policy is responsible for the unusual success of this sale.

In grateful tribute to a loyal public we are giving this Thank You Sale Friday, offering values similar to the Anniversary values, giving you a chance to buy values at never-to-be-forgotten prices. Every item is a sales saving. Read—come—and buy.

Once more—Thanks from the bottom of our hearts.

California Farmers Going to Russia

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—For the benefit of a group of farmers leaving for Russia at the end of this month a farewell entertainment is to be given on Saturday, June 24, at 8 p. m., at the Golden Gate Commandery hall, 2137 Sutter street.

The group consists of 37 families of farmers, acquainted with the best American methods of farming, who are to be given 7500 acres along the southern Don, on which to establish a model farm. The land grant was signed at Moscow by the Russian Soviet and the representative of the farmers' group. The entertainment will be given under the auspices of the San Francisco branch of the Society for Technical Aid to Soviet Russia. The program consists of a presentation of "The Twelve Pound Look" by the People's Players and a musical program.

ASK THE TRIBUNE Bureau Information

"What is the best road and route to Tahoe from Sacramento?" queries a Crockett reader of the TRIBUNE.

The Placerville road is the only road open that is in good condition. Write to TRIBUNE Touring Bureau, 1422 San Pablo, or call there and will receive a marked map of the road.

"Where may I obtain a campfire permit?"

District Forester's office, Ferry building, San Francisco.

If the individual who wrote inquiring about a certain producer's organization in St. Louis, will send name and address we will send a personal answer.

"Will you kindly inform me as to where I can purchase chicken, duck or geese feathers, or down?"

A list of local concerns is printed in the classified section of the telephone book. Look under "Feather."

"Is there a premium on a one-cent piece of 1864?"

There is no premium listed in the standard coin catalogue for one-cent pieces later than 1857.

"Is the Jumbo Extension of Goldfield being worked?"

According to the inspector of mines for the state of Nevada, the Jumbo Extension Mining company has not been operating its property during the last two years.

The TRIBUNE Information Bureau will answer all questions of a general nature, except school or firm names and queries as to the time of day.

The bureau is open every day except Sunday from 8 a. m. to 3 p. m.

If answers are desired by mail stamps must be enclosed. Quickest results can be obtained by telephoning to the bureau. If you have any problems of a general nature to solve, ask The TRIBUNE Information Bureau, Lakeside 6000.

Annual Cadet Frolic To Aid Camp Fund

The annual frolic of the First Regiment, League of the Cross Cadets, to be held at Idora park Sunday, will aid in raising funds to help finance the big summer camp of the cadets which will be opened at Santa Cruz, July 15, and will continue until July 23, inclusive.

Twenty-four of the most skillful drillmen will participate in "the drill down," a competition to determine the best in eight companies.

Police Chiefs Elect Officers And Convention Adjourns

Visiting Officers to Spend Saturday As Guests of Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Philip T. Smith, chief of police of New Haven, Conn., was elected president of the International Association of Police Chiefs yesterday at the annual convention of the association at the Hotel St. Francis.

The convention adjourned last night, following the election of officers for the ensuing year, and after having selected Buffalo, N. Y., as next year's convention city.

Chief Smith succeeds Chief August Vollmer of Berkeley, president of the association for the past year.

Other officers elected were: Vice-presidents, W. P. Rutledge, Detroit; James M. Broughton, Portsmouth, Va.; G. B. Carroll, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Chief Constable S. J. Dickson, Toronto, Canada; and Chief Daniel J. O'Brien of San Francisco.

George Black of Wilmington, Del., was re-elected secretary, and Patrick J. Kelly of Plainfield, N. J., was elected treasurer. Chief Chas. Edwards of Kansas City was named sergeant-at-arms.

MEASURES RECOMMENDED.

Among measures recommended by the convention prior to adjournment were:

Establishment of a national bureau of criminal investigation at Washington, D. C.

Intensified prosecution of narcotic peddlers and hospitals for narcotic addicts.

Capital punishment.

Probation to be denied persons convicted of stealing automobiles or committing robberies, who were armed at the time; to buncomen and pickpockets; to peddlers or supply agents of narcotics.

The "third degree" was completely discredited by the delegates, who held unanimously that "the value of questioning a suspect, or giving him the so-called third degree, is greatly exaggerated, and of no particular value. Experience has taught that the most successful way to question a suspect is to let him tell his story in detail in his own way."

INTERNATIONAL ACTION.

The convention also recommended organization among the different governments of the world, in order that habitual criminals may be rounded up and segregated.

The delegates furthermore announced themselves "against the

Police Woman Would Give Up Wearing Uniform

THE wearing of uniforms by women police officers was criticized yesterday by Mrs. Mine van Winkle, president of the International Police Women's Association, who is a delegate to the international convention of chiefs of police in San Francisco.

Mrs. van Winkle, who heads the women's bureau of the police department in Washington, D. C., said: "It is humiliating for a woman who has been arrested to be forced to accompany a uniformed official through the streets. The duties of a police woman can be much better carried out when she is dressed like any other woman."

"It is only when we are dressed as they are that the women open their hearts to us and tell us all their troubles, and it is only through that we arrive at the fundamental causes which led them to crime. In many cases the uniform causes fear and distrust and I can arrive at the facts better in mufti."

use of deception tests that are not authorized by law, and against taking advantage of any person in custody for the purpose of getting a conviction other than by methods strictly within the law.

The use in crime detection of secret phones and dictaphones was disapproved by the convention, "for the reason that it is a violation of law to tap telephone lines, and that the information so obtained is not admissible in evidence."

The convention furthermore recommended that insanity cases be always passed upon by medical experts, and that habitual criminals be registered wherever possible.

SIMILAR UNIFORMS.

Chief W. P. Rutledge of Detroit recommended to the convention that the police of all cities should have similar uniforms.

Last night's session disposed of all subjects of discussion on the convention's agenda, and the remainder of the week will be devoted to pleasure and to sight-seeing.

A party of the chiefs visited San Quentin prison yesterday afternoon and were escorted through the institution by Warden James A. Johnson.

Today the delegates are making an automobile tour of the Santa Clara valley and a visit to Stanford University. Tomorrow night they will attend a banquet at the Palace Hotel, at which Richard Quinlan, Mayor Rolph and Police Commissioner Theodore Roche will be the speakers. There will also be trips up Mount Tamalpais and to the Muir Woods.

Saturday will be Oakland Day, when the chiefs and other delegates will be entertained at luncheon by the Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Oakland, and when they will make automobile trips throughout Alameda county.

WILL GIVE CONCERT.

A benefit concert will be given tomorrow evening under the auspices of the Trinity Young People's Society at the church assembly hall, 823 Athens way. Ruth Waterman Anderson and Carl Edwin Anderson, with William W. Carlin as accompanist will present the program.

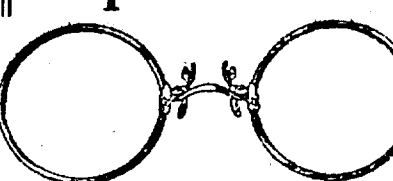

COUNTLESS AIDS PRISONER.

HENLEY, Eng.—A countless yet unnamed has come to the aid of Jack Hewitt, the boy accused of murdering a woman at Lonely Tree Inn.

Official of Defunct Bank Not Liable

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 22.—(By The Associated Press.)—Cornelius G. Billings, former president and director of the Home Savings Bank of Chicago, which closed its doors December 18, 1905, owing depositors $200,000, was yesterday saved from the necessity of restitution by the statute of limitations. Without directly passing on his liability as a director of the bank, in an opinion written by Justice Dunn, held that the action brought by Abraham Beecher, stockholder, twelve years after the bank failed, was barred by the statute of limitations in Billings' case as well as in the case of other bank directors. A former ruling of the supreme court held Billings liable. 10,000 GALS. WINE SEIZED. LOS ANGELES, June 22.—Ten thousand gallons of wine were seized in connection with the arrest here by prohibition enforcement agents of John Joseph, one of the owners of a winery.

Motorists Found to Grow More Careless

BALTIMORE, June 22.—Are drivers of motor vehicles becoming more negligent, less respectful of their own safety?

It would seem so from actual observations made by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. For more than two years this railroad has been placing men at crossings where there are usually a large number of automobiles passing. These observers make note of the number of machines crossing and take down the license numbers of those whose drivers fail to take any precaution to assure themselves that it is safe to pass over the tracks.

When a driver dashes over without taking any precautions, his license number is noted and a card calling him to his negligence is sent him, with a request to guard his life and property the next time he goes over a railroad track.

In the year 1920, the Baltimore & Ohio observers took note of 222,000 vehicles in the states through which it operates. In that year, according to the records of these observers, there were 25,680 drivers who failed to take any precautions at highway crossings. This was 11.5 per cent of the total observations made.

In April of this year, there were 14,171 checked by the railroad's observers. There were 2,075 of the drivers of these reported as failing to stop, look or listen before passing over the tracks. This was a safety "failure" of 14.6 per cent.

Activities of WOMEN

Miss Countiss Weds Russell Taylor Gheen

The marriage of Miss Louise Countiss and Russell Taylor Gheen last evening at the home of a lifelong friend of the bride, Miss Gladys Emmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wellington Emmons of Union street, Alameda, was an interesting event to the social set about the bay. Only forty of the immediate friends and members of the family were bidden to the bay shore home that is one of the most ideally situated on the island. Pink was the predominating color used in the appointments of the spacious living rooms. Sweet peas and snapdragons were combined for the bower at one end of the drawing room. Rev. Clarence Reed of the Unitarian church of that city officiated.

In lieu of the usual bridal attire, Miss Countiss chose to be married in a handsome gown of silver cloth made over a foundation of flesh-toned chiffon, and carried a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Gladys Emmons, who was maid of honor, wore a gown of pink Romaine crepe, while little Kathleen Coogan, daughter of the Albert Joseph Coogan, was sitting in a ruffled frock of rose georgette. The bride is the daughter of one of the eminent railroad men of Chicago, while Gheen is a wealthy lumberman of Portland, Ore.

WILL LEAVE FOR EUROPE

A large number were guests yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Edward Von Adelung, who entertained in compliment to Mrs. Edwin Joseph Bruck (Marie Kergun), Dr. and Mrs. Bruck are to leave for Europe in July, leaving San Francisco July 4 for the eastern metropolis. They plan to spend Christmas in England with friends of the Kergun family.

and will join Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pope Talbot next month in Paris.

Another bride of Wednesday evening was Miss Dorothy Seabury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Henry Seabury, of Berkeley, who married Herbert Henry Reed. The home was massed in pink roses and larkspur, with Rev. R. McBurney officiating. Miss Carl Seabury was her sister's attendant. There were six garland bearers—Josephine Omer, Dorothy Seaton, Ethel Birmingham, Jane Reilly, Dorothy Lewis and Mrs. John Cox.

In a few days the couple will leave for Texas, where they are to make their home. The bride is a graduate of the Lux School of Industrial Arts. Reed is with the Standard Oil.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS AT HIGHLANDS.

At the Highlands in Piedmont this afternoon Mrs. Isaac L. Regan kept open house for her nearest and oldest friends, Mrs. Regan, observing the custom that for years past has afforded those nearest to her to extend their felicitations for a happy birthday. Today the celebration of the Highlands celebrated her ninety-third birthday anniversary. At the tea hour, 4 o'clock, she extended her hospitality to more than half a hundred guests. Among the first to felicitate their great-grandmother were Master Charles Zook Sutton Jr., and little Amy Sutton, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sutton. General and Mrs. Oscar Fitzalan Long, Mr. and Mrs. Salem Camillo Pohlman, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lawrence Regan, and Miss Alice Regan were present. Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Russell and their little family were unable to come north for the festivities.

Later on General and Mrs. Long will leave for Redwood Valley, beyond Ukiah, to spend the summer months upon their ranch and will be joined by different members of their family.

Dr. S. H. Buteau and his daughter, Mrs. Frank Macdonald, who have returned from an eastern trip.

WEDDING IN ST. ELIZABETH'S.

At a 9 o'clock nuptial mass Wednesday in St. Elizabeth's church Miss Prudence Elizabeth Chely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Long Chely, of Brookdale avenue, Fruitvale, became the bride of Peter William Ragen, of this city, formerly of Philadelphia. Only the members of the two families were in attendance. Later a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Margaret Ragen was bridesmaid, and gownned in all white, carrying pink bridesmaid roses. The bride wore a gown of white canton crepe and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and maidenhair fern tulle. Rev. Father Leonard, O. F. M., read the ritual. Joseph Ragen was best man for his brother.

The couple have gone to Santa Cruz on their honeymoon and upon their return will reside at 1502 Thirty-third avenue.

VISITORS HERE FROM KENTUCKY.

Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Boyes are entertaining at their home Mr. and Mrs. Bedford Boyes, who arrived last week from Kentucky for a visit to the western coast. The family will motor to Carmel this week-end for a trip. Later on Mr. and Mrs. Bedford Boyes will go to Fresno for a visit, where they made their home, following their marriage a season or more ago.

Miss Irma Kelly and her fiancé, Edward M. Evans, were pleasantly surprised when a number of their friends gave them a surprise evening at the Kelly home in Alameda. The betrothal was announced at a luncheon at the home of the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. T. H. Kelly. Among the guests the other evening were Dr. and Mrs. Rued and Miss Nevada Rued; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemery, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Burns, Mrs. M. J. Petersen, Mr. and Mrs. Cy La Rue, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schumacher, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanjes, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Kelly and William and Frank Kelly.

Monday evening the wedding of Miss Lucile Smith and J. F. Haines, both prominent in Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. work, will take place in this city. The couple will sail for Honolulu where they will make their future home.

Money Orders to England Increase

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The postoffice department announced today that there has been a great increase in the last two months in the amounts of money sent to England by postal money orders. During May the total was $110,000, or $495,000, at the rate of exchange then in effect. The amount going to England daily now was said to be about $5000 pounds, or $23,000.

at present rates of exchange. While much of the money sent abroad is directed to relatives, the bulk of it, the department stated, was in exchange for imports to this country.

Tinder can be made from half burned linen.

Here it is—the big new package that thousands have asked us for

In answer to women the country over who are using Rinso we have brought out this big new package. At every step of the family wash Rinso does the work.

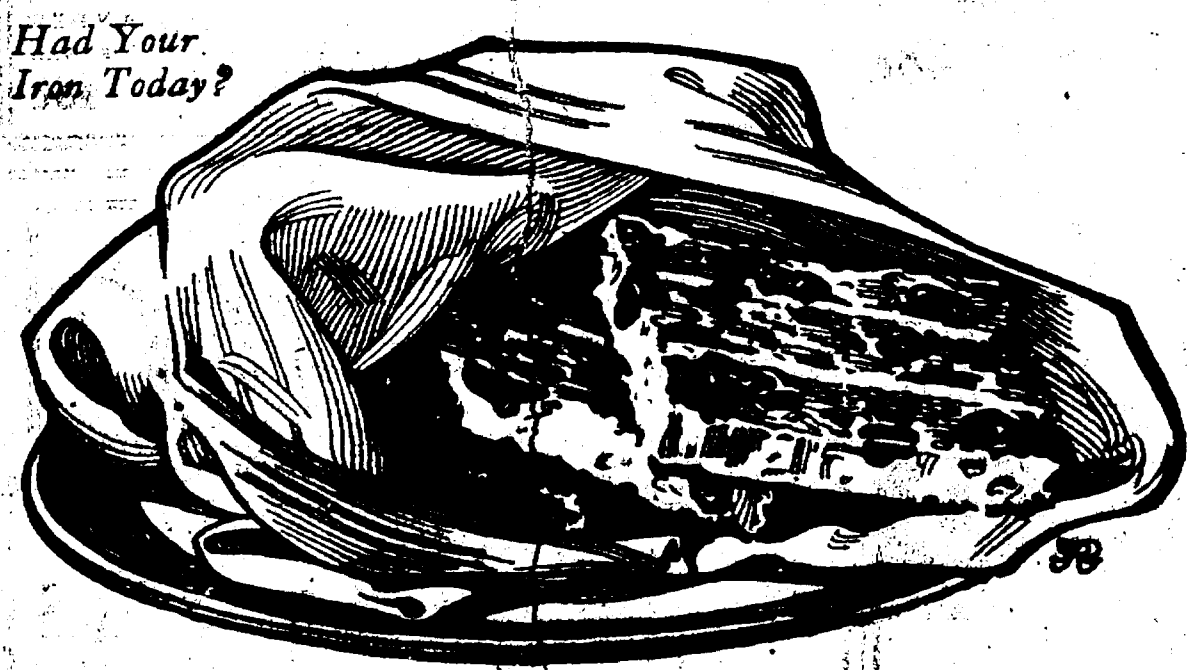

Millions of women who soak their clothes have found that just soaking in Rinso loosens all the dirt. On the places where the dirt is actually ground-in they rub a little dry Rinso, and even this dirt rinses out.

When they boil their white cottons they pour enough Rinso solution in the boiler to give them the suds they like.

Washing machine owners use Rinso because with it they don't have to rub even the places that used to need special attention.

Rinso takes the place of bar soap. Use it at every step of the wash. Ask your grocer today for the big new package. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

NOTE: In hard water it takes from 1/4 to 1 package (regular size) of Rinso to the tub to make good suds. In very hard water you will need from 1/4 to 1 package to the tub to get the big lasting suds.

Cantilever Shoe for Men

Why the Arch Is Flexible

"Arches of the feet, as made by nature, are flexible, even as are the toes of the feet. Joints, to be kept elastic, must be often motioned or they will grow stiff and rusty. The flexible Shank shoe gives the joints of the arch a chance to move and keep elastic." Quoted from "American Shoemaking," January issue.

This flexibility of the Cantilever Shoe gives you a wonderful feeling of foot freedom, ease, youth, grace and "pep" to your walk.

Important nerves center in the foot and if abused by badly shaped shoes the effect is felt in other parts of the body. Some people have headaches, backaches, migraines, rheumatism, which could be avoided by wearing proper shoes.

Wear the Wings of Mercury. Do you have to be on your feet part of the day? Do you want to get away from that tired feeling of the feet—and enjoy real comfort in a good-looking shoe?

Come to us and be fitted to the Cantilever.

STATE DELEGATES OF WOMEN'S CLUB TO VISIT OAKLAND

Members of Business and Professional Organization to Tour Eastbay.

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Oakland will be hostesses tomorrow to the third annual convention of the California Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. The state officers and delegates will arrive at 10 a. m. where automobiles will take them on a tour of the Eastbay cities.

Howard Gilkey, city landscape architect, will be the speaker at the convention luncheon which will be served in the Broadway quarters of the local club, "Oakland-Constructively," will be his subject.

The afternoon session will be called to order at 2 o'clock. Miss Gail Leachin, San Francisco attorney, and the first president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's club, will discuss the proposed twelfth amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

WELCOME IN S. F.
Welcome will be given the convention in the Market street club rooms of the San Francisco group of Business and Professional Women tonight by Miss Mary Margaret Morgan, woman supervisor of San Francisco and representative of the Chamber of Commerce. The response will be made by Miss Caroline Kellogg, attorney of Los Angeles.

"The Standard Test for Business Women's Ability," will be the subject of an address by Mrs. Annette Abbott Adams, San Francisco attorney. Judge J. D. Hill and Grover O'Connor will debate the proposed water and power act. Mrs. Josephine Wilson, San Francisco newspaper woman, was the principal speaker this afternoon. "Co-operation Among Professional Women" was her plea. Reports of state officers and local club presidents were presented at the opening session. While the executive board was engaged in business this morning, delegates were taken on a sight-seeing tour of San Francisco. T. H. Boardman, president of the Commonwealth club, and L. A. Moberly will be the principal convention speakers tomorrow night in the San Francisco headquarters. "Civic Responsibility" and "Compulsory Voting" will be the general themes.

WILL END SATURDAY.
The convention will close on Saturday with election of officers. Speakers on the afternoon program will be as follows: Report of Research Committee, Miss Clotilde Grunsky; Work of Placement Bureau, Miss Winifred Hausan; San Diego, College Women in Placement Work, Mrs. Mae L. Cheney; Vocational Work in Sacramento, Miss Flaa; Responsibility of the Older Business Women, Mrs. Elizabeth MacGibbon; Publicity and Its Value in Business, Mrs. Hazel Federer.

A playlet especially designed for tired business women, an address by Annie Laurie and three-minute toasts will provide the program to the annual banquet on Saturday night.

Miss Susan Smith, city librarian of Sacramento, president, will preside at all sessions. State officers and delegates will be entertained at dinner tonight in the Woman's Athletic club. The Saturday luncheon will be given in the National League for Women's service.

BANK OF ITALY OFFICIAL HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Frank C. Mitchell in Critical Condition; May Lose Sight in One Eye.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, June 22.—Injured in an automobile accident, which may cost the sight of one eye, Frank C. Mitchell, assistant to the president of the Bank of Italy, is in a critical condition here today while two San Francisco specialists are being rushed here to treat him.

Riding in the automobile, with Mitchell at the time of the accident were Louis Ferrari, attorney for the bank in San Francisco, and first assistant district attorney, and William T. Shipley, city attorney of San Luis Obispo. They escaped with slight injuries. The accident is believed to have been caused by the collapse of a front wheel, which caused the car to leave the pavement.

Mitchell suffered injuries which it was feared might cost him the sight of one eye as well as internal hurts, the extent of which had not been determined. The automobile in which he was riding, north of here, to this city, overturned. He has been unconscious much of the time since the accident.

School Head Forces Boys to Wear Coats

(By International News Service.)

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., June 22.—The school rule that all boys must wear coats and hats when they enter the school was enforced in the Lawrence and Portsmouth (N. H.) high schools by principals Horne and Gray. Those who violate this rule are punished.

During a warm wave several of the boys went to school in their shirt sleeves. They were sent home by principal Horne. Boys with their collars and coats on are forced to sit sweltering in their respective classes, where their girl classmates, with sleeveless blouses and throats exposed, are as cool as cucumbers.

Tribune Juveniles Continue To Score With Skit at T. & D.

"Eastside-Westside" Pleases Audiences; Jackie Coogan Picture Also Is Feature

The clever little skit called "Eastside-Westside," which is being staged by a number of The TRIBUNE's clever juveniles as a prologue to Jackie Coogan's latest picture, "Trouble," is still making a decided hit with all those who attend the T. & D. this week and promises to do so for the balance of the week, as the clever youngsters are working together better each performance and gaining more confidence all the time.

It was the object of those who put the skit together to omit anything at all suggestive or objectionable, but at the same time depict and carry out the mannerisms and actions of the characters found in and around a tenement section of New York, and they have certainly accomplished their purpose.

Besides the Jackie Coogan picture, "In Trouble," and The TRIBUNE's Juveniles in "Eastside-Westside," there is James Oliver Curwood's great picture, "The Golden Snare," and Ray Coleman, world's premier band player, and the regular

MINIMUM WAGE FOR WOMEN IS CALLED TOO LOW

Sarah Hagan, S. F. Labor Council Agent, Denounces Present Pay Scale.

No woman may live decently on a minimum wage below $17.07, Miss Sarah Hagan, representative of the San Francisco Labor Council, told members of Alameda County Social Service Workers' Association yesterday. Wages for women in the needlework trades are less today than they were twenty years ago, she declared.

Miss Hagan and Mrs. Katherine Phillips Edson, executive secretary of the Industrial Welfare Commission of California were invited by the local social workers to discuss the recent order making $15 a week the minimum wage for women in certain industries. In the absence of Mrs. Edson in the south, Miss Marion Mel, her assistant, represented the commission. The speakers addressed a half hundred interested men and women meeting at luncheon in the Broadway quarters of the Business and Professional Women's club. Mrs. Helen Neal of Berkeley, president, presided.

RENTS ADVANCING.
Rents of furnished rooms in San Francisco are on the incline and 90 cents a day for prepared meals is too low a figure upon which to base a minimum wage, according to the labor leader.

"The dairy lunchmen menus which were offered by the industrial commission are not obtainable in the factory districts," Miss Hagan said. "The 1914-1916 decisions were precisely to the point. Had the former orders been taken and the increased cost of living added thereto, the minimum wage would be approximately $19 a week."

"I am opposed to such exhibitions in the future as took place before the hearing when employers undertook to tell the women how they should clothe themselves. The employers themselves were ashamed of the gloves and shoes which were second and the underwear through which peas could be shot which were placed on display for a working woman's wardrobe," Miss Hagan charged.

FAIR WAGE DEMANDED.
"Women are entitled to a fair wage. After being given it, it is no body's business how the money is expended. No woman is working for fun. When a man is employed he is not asked if he is married, but his wages are based on a standard to maintain a wife and two children. A woman's wage is based on a condition of aloneness and does not allow for dependents. Under the new order no listing is made for savings or contributions to church," the speaker pointed out.

That minimum wages become the maximum as is frequently claimed, was disputed by Miss Mel. She said: "With more than 7000 women employed in the laundry industry in October, 1920, 69.1 per cent received a weekly return of $17 and more. In the mercantile industries with more than 28,000 women employed, 48.9 per cent received $17 and more per week."

Miss Mel recited the history of the Industrial Welfare Commission and the regulations which govern it.

MINIMUM WAGE.
"The minimum wage is the measure below which a woman may not safely go to keep in good health," she explained. "We allow in our survey a well ventilated, clean room; ready-made clothing and three prepared meals a day. Surveys upon which the recent reductions were ordered were made in popular priced department stores, cafeterias and low-priced restaurants," she declared.

In referring to cost of rooms in San Francisco, Miss Mel said: "In November, 1921, the commission had listed 360 investigated rooms, 49.7 per cent of which might be had for $15 a month. In February, 1922, of 160 investigated rooms, 61 per cent rented for $15 a month. In March, 1922, 54 per cent of 329 uninvestigated rooms listed rented for $15 a month."

"The commission takes for its standard in determining minimum wage the self dependent woman with no dependents," the speaker explained.

WILKENS FAILS TO PICK SLAYER

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Henry Wilkens, widower of Mrs. Anna Wilkens, who was shot and killed by automobile bandits on the night of May 30, failed to identify four men held by the police as suspects in connection with the murder.

Wilkens returned from his vacation yesterday and visited police headquarters, where the quartet was lined up before him. He stated that none of them resembled the bandit who shot to death Mrs. Wilkens after robbing him of three $100 bills. The four men are William Crowe, Jack Dougherty, Howard McGrath and Walter Sullivan. Crowe was turned over to Constable S. A. Landini of Daly City, where he is wanted in connection with the kidnapping and attack on three young girls.

Arthur Castor, who was questioned as a suspect in the Wilkens murder case, appeared today before Police Judge Lazarus on a worthless check charge.

Homeier Funeral Arranged for Friday

Funeral services for Louis Homeier, former orchestra leader and prominently identified with the early theatrical history of San Francisco, will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the family home, 1527 Willow street, Alameda. Homeier died yesterday in Providence hospital following a major operation. He was 73 years old.

Homeier was born on a sailing vessel in San Francisco bay in 1849. He was leader of the orchestra in the old Baldwin theater during the eighties. Later he was identified with the Concord High School, where he was in the Columbia, California and Alcatraz theaters. He was a pioneer resident of Alameda. Previous to his illness Homeier was instructor of music in the Concord High School. A widow, Mrs. Rosa Homeier; a daughter, Mrs. Lulu Storer; and a son, Louis Homeier, survive.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.—Advertisement.

Three Minute Tales by AD SCHUSTER THE SPOT-KNOCKER

HENRY CULLEN was 27 and without a care in the world. His picture was hanging at the exhibition, he had clothes and money and he possessed, in addition, a new and stimulating feeling that as an artist he was about to arrive. In the studios and galleries of New York he was regarded as a fortunate young man with leisure to study and there were many who envied him.

Every day Henry visited the gallery where his picture was hung, listened to the comments concerning it and decided, once again, that the thing was good. He sought new places to dine, and with his invitations and his pitifully was fairly confident to many an artist less fortunate.

Henry's painting attracted attention for the unusual treatment of an old theme. The foreground a long slope, was bare and bathed in shadow. At the crest of a hill a clump of trees were thrown into a dim but effective outline by the last ray of the setting sun. The thing was all shades, but this one glow and its effect was of silence and reverie.

Partly because the small painting hanging next interpreted the same subject in so sharp a contrast, the two became widely discussed. This other picture made the dying sun glorify a rugged cliff; it was all light and detail, the last blaze of day.

It was after one of the papers had reproduced the two sunsets on its art page and while a lively argument was under way concerning their relative merits, that Henry first saw the rival artist. She was a young girl with furs and jewels, timid and reserved. The pictures and the fellowship of paint furnished the introduction.

"This discussion is most fortunate," Henry said one day, "provided you are anxious to sell. I expect when I come down tomorrow I will see the 'sold' card on your sunset. It is a bit strange, isn't it, we are both dealers in sunsets?"

THE girl smiled without interest. "I do not care," she replied, "if no one buys my picture. It is the work, the creation that interests me."

Henry thought of what a sale would mean to him as he looked at this girl in her finery. He wondered why success came to those who could take it so easily and thought of some of the young women he knew in the studios.

The prediction of the young artist was fulfilled. In the morning both pictures bore cards of trade and recognition. While he waited for the girl Henry stood back and experienced triumph. This was worth the trip to New York. It had been a glorious vacation.

"Listen, Miss Wales," the delighted painter said when she arrived. "This does not mean so much to you, but I am in the seventh heaven. Tomorrow I go back West and I thought I would have to take the picture with me. Suppose we celebrate our success with a dinner and the theater?"

That evening Henry studied the girl who was so unmoved with triumph and decided, again, that if she were anything but a wealthy girl using her art as a plaything, he would stay in New York until his last cent were gone. Her easy acceptance of the picture's sale and casual reference to a social life beyond his experience plagued him. In retaliation and as an eleventh hour bit of play-acting, he spoke vaguely of large interests in the West and of his studio.

"It isn't because I have never sold a picture before that I am jubilant," he said. "It is the old feeling that comes with each sale. I cannot understand how you can be so unmoved when to me each picture that makes good is cause for celebrating. I hope, and you will pardon me, that I will never be so successful that I cannot exult in victory."

IN a week Henry was back in Chicago working on another picture. It was of a portly gentleman with long black mustaches and the artist's materials were hairbrush, charcoal and crayons. In the room were a score of men and women enlarging photographs that were to be given gift frames and sent to the parlors of the countryside. Henry, for nine months of the year, was a spot-knocker. On Sundays he painted, and already he was dreaming of the next vacation of the sale of more pictures, and the promised relief from drudgery. The spot-knocking business was rushing and the wages were high.

"You'll have to move over a bit," Henry was told one day. "We're making room for four more. Better to be crowding them in than laying them off." Henry shoved over and went on with his work. The nose of his subject needed nattering. When he looked up it was into the startled eyes of Miss Wales.

"Madeline!" he said, using the name for the first time. "What's the matter?"

The girl was laughing. "They told me you were rich and ever so successful," she said.

"And you?" he asked.

"Henry," she confessed, "the hardest thing I ever did was to keep from dangling a jig when I saw that 'sold' sign."

A little later the spot-knocked looked up and said, "Lunch?"

WOMAN IN CITY HUNTING HUSBAND

Planning to visit every city on the Pacific coast in search of her husband, who left their home in Seattle on April 17, Mrs. John J. Ramser arrived in Oakland today and appealed to the police to aid her in her hunt. According to the woman, her husband left their home saying that he would be back in two hours. She has not seen nor heard of him since.

Once, before, she says, her husband left her. She is staying at the Sunset Hotel, San Francisco, and will leave for Long Beach if her search here is unsuccessful.

Propose Law to Stop Transfer of Glands

CHICAGO, June 22.—Legislation to prohibit traffic in human glands will be introduced in the next session of the Illinois legislature, according to two members of the general assembly—Representatives Thomas J. O'Grady and Lawrence G. O'Brien, both democratic members from Chicago districts.

They declared that persons should be prohibited by law from selling any part of their bodies or from buying tissues or glands from the body of another.

Representative O'Grady announced that his proposed measure to make gland transplantation illegal has been drafted and that he will offer the bill as soon as the general assembly meets next January.

When the two legislators learned of each other's similar plans they decided to confer on the matter.

Yolo Men Killed Under Caving Bank

WOODLAND, June 22.—H. S. Barnes, 35, contractor, and Clinton Moon, 32, rancher, were buried beneath tons of earth late yesterday afternoon when an 18 foot ditch in which they were working on the Moon ranch near here, caved in. Another worker, George Scroggins, had just emerged from the pit when the sides of the ditch collapsed.

The body of Clinton Moon was recovered shortly after midnight and the shovelers working by lantern light continued their search for the body of Barnes, the contractor.

Over a porcelain table where the dishes rattled they planned their future.

ALAMEDA MAN TAKES OWN LIFE

ALAMEDA, June 22.—The body of Leigh Quimby, 40 years old, who committed suicide in his room at 1424 Oak street about three days ago by inhaling chloroform, was discovered today. Mrs. Anna MacQuarrie, landlady at the rooming house, found the body when she entered the room to clean. She called the police.

Quimby had ended his life by placing a sponge saturated with chloroform in a rubber bag and then inserting his head in the bag. Mrs. MacQuarrie said that she heard him moving about in his room Monday.

Police believe the man was depressed. He left several notes, which led them to the conclusion, they say. One addressed to his sister, Rosemond McMiller, follows in part:

"It is queer to know I must die, but when a soul refuses to remain in an environment, the body must be left behind."

Twenty-one Newspaper Leaders With 4,600,000 Unduplicated Circulation in Twenty-one Important Communities

The activities of the Newspaper are second to no force in building and developing its community, and our nation is but the sum of many communities.

A successful national business is built by securing the maximum number of sales in each of the communities of our Nation. No better way can be found to accomplish such results than through the use of the medium that is so instrumental in building and developing its community.

There is no publication circulated (by mail or otherwise) in a city or town that is so vitally important to its readers and to its community as the newspaper.

The reader of a Newspaper pays more money every year for his favorite Newspaper than for any other publication. Almost any Newspaper has a circulation in its own city and surrounding territory many times larger than any of the so-called "National" publications, besides carrying much more vital and interesting news to its readers.

No wonder, then, that the dealer insists upon The Newspaper to carry the advertising of the manufacturer whose goods he has in stock.

The Newspaper has helped to build the dealers' business; dealers supply the outlet for the manufacturers' products---link them up together.

National Newspapers Incorporated consists of twenty-one great Sunday Newspapers whose circulations extend over the entire United States---4,600,000 unduplicated circulation---more than 20,000,000 readers.

Now for the first time, the National Advertiser has brought to him one great National Newspaper force.

National Newspapers Incorporated, through National Newspapers, Weekly, for the first time, places at the disposal of the National Advertiser the twenty-one different Sunday Newspaper structures which have built up the twenty-one leading Newspapers at their respective communities---twenty-one of the most important trading centers of the United States.

STATE RAILROAD BOARD ASSERTS C. P.-S. P. STAND

Legally Impossible to Take Court Action Over Rail Dissolution.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The State Railroad Commission today in response to requests from numerous civic organizations, made known its stand on the Southern Pacific, Central Pacific unmerging decision of the United States supreme court, as an aftermath of the conferences held by it with the Public Utilities Bodies of the Pacific Coast States.

The commission expresses the hope for a speedy action by the Interstate Commerce Commission of the western railroad problem and the belief that its plan under the transportation act of 1920 is not in conflict with the supreme court's decision. It urges upon the Interstate Commerce Commission to bring about, if possible, "such grouping and such consolidation of the railroad system as will serve the ever growing transportation needs of the entire state of California."

The commission goes on to declare that the conference developed the fact that it was legally impossible for the state commission to take any action before the supreme court in connection with the decision, and explains that it was the sense of the conference that nothing could or should be done to evade the decision, if the tribunal refused to modify or change it on a re-hearing.

In connection with the railroad commission conferences, Max Thelen, former state railroad commissioner, spoke at a meeting of agricultural and industrial organizations, chambers of commerce and business representatives under the auspices of the California development association today.

Thelen said that the dissolution of the Central and Southern Pacific would result in "two fragmentary railroad systems trying to render the service now efficiently performed by a single unified system. Branch lines would be separated from main lines. Terminal and main lines would be disconnected from the lines now serving them and roundabout routes would be substituted for present direct lines.

"The unmerging would not reduce rates," he continued. Thelen, "either local or transcontinental. If any change in rates occurs it would be an increase. The acquisition of the Central Pacific by the Union Pacific would prevent competition on terms of equality. It would be a terrific blow to the Southern Pacific. The best interests of California imperatively require that the Southern Pacific must be kept in a strong position."

Girl Missing, Believed to Have Fled From Home With Brother

LOIS GRAY, 16-year-old Oakland girl, who disappeared from her home and who is thought to have run away with her 18-year-old brother.

Police Asked to Find Miss of 16 Who Left With Kin.

Sixteen-year-old Lois Gray, who disappeared last night from the home of her foster mother, Mrs. M. B. Sheldon, 3619 Market street, is believed by Mrs. Sheldon to have gone away with her 18-year-old brother, Clarence. Mrs. Sheldon has asked the police to both sides of the bay to make an effort to locate the brother, believing that through him she will find the missing girl.

The girl is a graduate of the Duran grammar school. She is described as being a brunette, 5 feet, 3 inches tall, and weighs 108 pounds. Her complexion is dark and she has light brown eyes.

Mrs. Sheldon said that her foster daughter left home last evening, while she was in another part of the house telephoning. She said that on the neighbor's children had seen her going across the street carrying a suitcase. She is believed to have had on a striped plaid skirt, a black plush coat, black shoes, white stockings and a broad brimmed white hat trimmed with pink flowers.

Mrs. Sheldon took the two children to raise four years ago when their father, a truck driver, was killed in Emeryville by a railroad train.

She said that Clarence had left home on February 12, 1920, and had returned Monday. The girl appeared uneasy yesterday.

Mrs. Sheldon said the girl told her that if she did what her brother wanted her to do, she would be able to tell her where he was. She also said to have told Mrs. Sheldon that her brother would keep her sister where no power on earth could find them.

C. C. MOORE TO OPPOSE JOHNSON IN SENATE RACE

Campaign Against Senator Begun At Palace Hotel Meeting.

United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson will be opposed at the coming election by Charles C. Moore, San Francisco engineer and president of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

The launching of the campaign of Moore was effected at a secret meeting in the Palace hotel, which lasted from early morning until late afternoon. The meeting was attended by political representatives from all over the state.

Coincidentally with the decision to inaugurate the candidacy of Moore was the decision to establish Republican clubs throughout the state whose activities will not be limited to the Moore campaign, but will support the Harding administration generally.

Marshall Hale, who has been a political opponent of Johnson since he resigned from the Harbor Commission, presided at the meeting. He was assisted by Captain I. N. Hibberd, also of San Francisco. The southern California delegation was headed by Marshall Stimson and Chester Rowell, representatives of the Central California Republicans.

BATTLE PREDICTED.

That the induction of Moore into the senatorial fight presages a political battle was long predicted by those familiar with politics after the meeting, for, although this is Moore's first participation in active politics he has been active in civic and state affairs for a long time. His campaign will be conducted by his campaign manager, now a state railroad commissioner. There is much speculation as to whether the Moore candidacy will involve gubernatorial aspirants.

Johnson, an appointed commissioner to Europe in 1906 to secure foreign warships for the Portola celebration in San Francisco, was president of the chamber of commerce for two years and later chairman of the executive committee of the citizens' health commission, which eradicated the bubonic plague in San Francisco.

Decorations of France, Italy, Greece, Norway, China and Japan came to Moore as a result of his activities during the exposition days and in war time he was director of the California state council of defense, having been appointed by Governor Stephens, and director of the foreign land division of the Liberty Loan committee in the Twelfth Federal Reserve Landholder.

Moore is a large landholder in California and is active in the olive growing industry. A recent purchase near Los Angeles brought him what is reputed to be the largest olive grove in the world. Moore was a candidate for Hoover delegate from California to the last Republican presidential convention but was otherwise taken no active part in politics.

Los Angeles representatives at the meeting were: Marshall Stimson, J. G. Mott, E. P. Clark, Ralph Arnold, F. W. Kellogg, W. W. Halderman, John Willis Baer and Judge J. C. Daly of Ventura.

The San Francisco delegation included: Chester H. Rowell, Marshall Hale, T. C. Gregory, Captain I. N. Hibberd, Clarence Odie, William T. Sesson, George M. Rolph, former Governor J. N. Gillett, Thomas S. Williams, J. F. Parkinson, George McGee, Orrin S. Peterson, Walter Johnson, J. M. Hyde, Mark Gerstle, Charles H. Bentley, Wallace M. Alexander, R. A. Crothers, A. M. Lawrence, Ralph L. Hathorn and Phil S. Teller.

Pledges of support were also announced from: Kent K. Parrott, P. M. Johnson, P. C. Fairbanks, Gavin W. Craig, W. M. Garland, John D. Fredericks, Dr. G. F. Edwards, H. M. Robinson, E. A. Dickson and Parley M. Johnson, all of Los Angeles; Frank A. Miller of Riverside and John D. Spreckels and James McMullen of San Diego.

Auto Bandits Kidnap And Rob S. F. Man

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The robbery of Hans Hansen, proprietor of a soft drink parlor at 998 Oak street, by two automobile bandits, who obtained $1075 in cash and a $300 diamond pin, after kidnapping their victim, was reported to the police today. According to the officers at the Park station the hold-up occurred at midnight Tuesday. Hansen had just closed his place and was waiting for a car at Page and Scott streets to take to his home, 44 Academy street, when a machine drove up to the front of the car and taken to Golden Gate park. There in a lonely section he was robbed and left to shift for himself.

Sailor Attacked And Skull Injured

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Ted Ankle, a sailor on the U. S. S. Tiuna, living at 1325 Stockton street, was attacked by a mysterious assailant at midnight and suffered a possible fracture of the skull. The assault occurred in a hotel at 1325 Stockton street and Ankle was taken to the Harbor Emergency hospital. He was unable to tell the police the circumstances leading up to the attack or give a clew to the identity of his assailant.

Widow to Contest Will of Ice King

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—A contest of the will of Joseph Martin, 72-year-old ice king, has been filed by his widow, Mrs. Lillian Spaulding Martin, who is 27 years of age. The action was begun yesterday in the local superior court. By the terms of the will Mrs. Martin is given $50 a month, but she is contesting for one-third, or $900,000 estate. The Martins were married in February of last year. Martin died five months later.

Plumbers Charge Material Boycott

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Complaint concerning certain alleged actions of the Builders' Exchange has been made by Chris Peterson, members of a local wholesale plumbing firm. The complaint was made to Judge Brannan yesterday, but because of the open shop attitude of the Builders' Exchange, efforts have been made to prevent his obtaining materials to continue work on a building at Leavenworth and Geary streets, and other buildings.

Nippon Widow Wants Bowie Will Upheld

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—A court fight was started yesterday by the Japanese widow and two children of Henry P. Bowie, student of the Orient, to uphold Bowie's estate. The contest brought by George H. Howard, Bowie's stepson. By the terms of the will the wife, Mrs. Komei Bowie, and two sons, Inao Bowie and Tawee Bowie, were left a large portion of Bowie's $200,000 estate. Bowie died in San Mateo last December.

ALAMEDA, June 22.—Sparks from a chimney set fire to the roof of the home of William Hoover, 2019 Broadway, Alameda. The fire, which was confined to the upper part of the building, will amount to about $1000.

ACCUSATION THAT LINCOLN FORCED WAR CALLED LIE

He Detested Conflict, Says Law Student Under Martyr President.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 22.—(By the Associated Press).—Defending the memory of Abraham Lincoln from the charge made yesterday by the United Confederate Veterans at Richmond, Va., that "he was personally responsible, forcing the war upon the South," Henry B. Rankin, aged 85, who studied law in Lincoln's law office and has written books about him, last night declared the charge "a lie."

"No man that ever lived," Rankin said, "was more lied about as to his personal manners and purposes of life. He was most essentially a man of peace. He detested war. During the war he went with Seaward and met the Confederate cabinet and challenged them to take a white sheet of paper and write whatever conditions of peace they desired, except secession, but nothing came of it."

"Listen," Rankin added, "to a part of Lincoln's first inaugural address. He said: 'In your hands, my dearest fellow countrymen, he said, and not in mine, is the momentous issue of civil war. The government will not assault you. You can have no conflict without being yourselves the aggressors.'"

"Active war was started by the South," Rankin said, "when the Star of the West, a United States vessel, carrying provisions to Fort Sumter, was fired on. Then, and then only, did Lincoln act."

Man Trampled In Car Panic As Fuse Burns

One man was seriously injured by being trampled upon by frenzied passengers when a panic ensued on an East Fourteenth street car following an outbreak of fire which was caused by the burning of a fuse last night. In the general stampede, women were knocked down and James O. Young, 2015 San Jose avenue, Alameda, was so badly crushed that he had to be removed to the Emergency hospital. Young is a contractor.

The panic started when the car, which was crowded with people who were returning home at 6 o'clock, had reached Twentieth avenue and East Fourteenth street. The case was investigated by Police Inspectors Tom Woods and Tom Pardee.

"GLOOMY GUS" IS GUILTY IN EAST

Deputy Sheriffs Bert Brown and Jack Collier returned here last night after spending several months in St. Paul in connection with the prosecution of "Gloomy Gus" (Schaeffer) Schachtel and Jack Harris, alleged diamond robbers, who were arrested here several months ago and returned to the Twin Cities.

According to the deputies, Schachtel was convicted in St. Paul of robbing a jewelry store of diamonds and other jewelry valued at $130,000. Jack Harris, tried on the same charge, was acquitted and taken with his brother, Max Harris, also arrested in Oakland, to Minneapolis, where they will face trial on a charge of murder in connection with a payroll holdup.

Schachtel and Jack and Max Harris were arrested here, "Gloomy Gus" and Jack Harris were held for the St. Paul police, but Max was released only to be picked up again on requisition of Minneapolis police in connection with the holdup and murder, in which a taxicab driver was shot.

TEACHER GIVEN FAREWELL

FAIRFAC, June 22.—Miss Marie Murphy, popular teacher of Fairmont school, was given a surprise party Monday night by a group of Richmond friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hunt, 1109 Nevins avenue. Miss Murphy will leave this week for her former home in Wisconsin.

FOES IN DIVORCE IN FOND EMBRACE AT COURT ORDER

Chief Witness Made to Show Judge How He Found His Brother's Wife.

Mrs. May F. Merrick and Roy Merrick, antagonists in the divorce suit of Merrick's brother, James, against Mrs. Merrick, were compelled to sit with their arms clasped about each other in Superior Judge Harris' court today, to demonstrate the way in which Merrick asserted he had found his sister-in-law sitting with another man.

Throughout the trial the defendant and Roy Merrick, who was the principal witness against her, had refused to speak to each other. Following Merrick's testimony that he had found his brother's wife sitting in an affectionate position with another man, Judge Harris ordered him to illustrate, with the aid of Mrs. Merrick.

After several commands from the court, the two assumed adjacent positions on a couple of chairs in the courtroom, sitting rigidly several inches apart, and looking away from each other.

"That isn't the way you testified," insisted Judge Harris, "come over here on this step, and show the court just how it was done."

The two opponents sat down together on the step leading to the judge's bench, and put their arms about each other. When Judge Harris said he was satisfied, they sprang apart and sought opposite sides of the courtroom.

James A. Merrick, the husband, is the former superior court judge, and is now under vocational training from the government as the result of wounds received in the fighting around St. Mihiel. He is suing Mrs. Merrick on the ground of alleged cruelty and unfaithfulness, and is asking custody of a minor child.

RADIO STATION PURCHASE URGED

The city council this morning received a plan from the Knights of the Round Table that Rockridge Radio station be taken over by the city, constituted a new ordinance compelling employees to report sickness or accident immediately, and referred to the mayor the project for inviting the National Educational Association to hold its 1922 convention in Oakland.

Commissioner Frank Colburn already has suggested that Rockridge station be taken over, and negotiations are pending.

The next ordinance compelling employees to report illness or accident was passed to print. Hereafter a form-card will have to be filled out in every case.

The board of education formally tendered its request for a 5-cent tax levy in the city budget this year for school purposes, or the same rate as last year. School support will get 3 cents and the building fund 2 cents. The request was referred to the city budget committee.

An ordinance was passed to print, abandoning Forty-fourth avenue south of East Fourth street, to allow a manufacturing plant to come in. The improvement of Forty-first avenue was ordered.

Mistaken Identity Plea in Dope Case

The assertion that the superior court is trying the wrong defendant for an alleged second violation of the state poison act was made to Superior Judge Lincoln S. Church today by Chester H. Case, attorney for the defendant, Yick Chung.

The charge against the Chinese is that after having once been convicted of having narcotics in his possession, a misdemeanor, he was again found with them in his possession, which makes it a felony. Case pointed out to the court that the man charged with the first offense last December was convicted under the name of Yick Chung, while the man now on trial for the alleged second offense is charged as Yick Chung.

Edwin Meese Jr., clerk of Department 2 of the police court, testified that Yick Chung and Yick Chung are the same man.

New $10,000 Opium Cache On Steamer

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—More than $10,000 worth of opium at present prices was confiscated in a new discovery by customs officers on the Trans-Pacific liner Empire State today. The inspectors are searching every portion of the vessel.

Jury Misconduct Charged By Newell

Charges of misconduct on the part of the jury which last Monday convicted him of passing a fictitious check, were made by Hugh H. Newell, self-styled "soldier of fortune" today in a motion for a new trial.

According to Newell, the jury listened to evidence presented outside the regular court proceedings and decided upon its verdict of guilty by lot, instead of by careful deliberation.

Arguments, in which the charges, it was asserted, will be set forth in detail with the aid of the court, were made by Judge Samuel Monday, it was announced following a conference between Judge Samuel and Newell's attorney.

Three Boys, Aged 16, Confess Burglaries

BERKELEY, June 22.—Three 16-year-old boys, whose names are being withheld by the police, confessed today to two burglaries following their arrest last night. Two of the boys are from Oakland and the other is a Berkeley boy.

They were taken into custody by Sergeant Oscar Putzker and Patrolman L. D. Browning.

They told the police that they had robbed the Service Drug Company, Harmon and Adeline streets, and the Anderson hardware store, 3325 Adeline street. Their loot is said to have amounted to several hundred dollars.

Berkeley Budget Will Be Discussed

BERKELEY, June 22.—The city council will meet at 10:15 a. m. tomorrow, to discuss the budget for the coming year.

While fixing the tax rate at $1.62, members of the council derived official action in apportioning the budget. Representatives of various departments seeking increased appropriations and citizens interested in various forms of civic endeavor are expected to attend in large numbers. An appeal for increased salaries for police and firemen may be voiced at the meeting.

Warrant Issued For Delinquent Husband

A bench warrant was today issued by Superior Judge Samuel Monday for the arrest of D. O. Herriek, following charges made by the adult probation office that, after Herriek had been given "another chance" to provide for his wife and two children, he had disappeared.

Herriek gave his wife only $3.50 in the past six months, according to the charge against him. Judge Samuel fixed Herriek's bail at $1000.

HIGH MASS TOMORROW

A high mass in honor of the Sacred Heart of Jesus will be held tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock at the St. Joseph's Portuguese church. The church quartet, under the direction of Jose Maria Sousa, will sing Rosewig's mass in G and "Veni Amor M" (Cherubini) at the offertory.

Washington Notes

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The House today by a vote of 238 to 226 took up the Capper-Flincher bill to amend the future trading act, but almost immediately laid it aside for the consideration of an appropriation bill.

Mayor John L. Bacon of San Diego, Calif., testifying before the House irrigation committee today in behalf of the Swing bill, declared that a "feeling of actual terror" prevailed in Southern California because of the imminent danger of the Colorado river flooding the Imperial Valley.

Petitions bearing thousands of signatures against the McCumber tariff bill which are pouring in an Republican senators from New York and other cities were declared in the senate today by Senator Watson, Republican of Indiana, to be part of the propaganda circulated by importers and retailers in opposition to the measure.

Congressional investigation of the office of the alien property custodian was called for in a resolution introduced today by Representative Woodruff, Republican, Michigan, setting forth charges that "prodigious fees" had been paid lawyers, some of whom represented the custodian and the alien enemies at the same time.

Plans of Secretary Fall of the Department of the Interior to visit Alaska this summer have been abandoned, the secretary advised Senators today during conference at the capital.

San Francisco News

Auto Bandits Kidnap And Rob S. F. Man

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The robbery of Hans Hansen, proprietor of a soft drink parlor at 998 Oak street, by two automobile bandits, who obtained $1075 in cash and a $300 diamond pin, after kidnapping their victim, was reported to the police today. According to the officers at the Park station the hold-up occurred at midnight Tuesday. Hansen had just closed his place and was waiting for a car at Page and Scott streets to take to his home, 44 Academy street, when a machine drove up to the front of the car and taken to Golden Gate park. There in a lonely section he was robbed and left to shift for himself.

Sailor Attacked And Skull Injured

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Ted Ankle, a sailor on the U. S. S. Tiuna, living at 1325 Stockton street, was attacked by a mysterious assailant at midnight and suffered a possible fracture of the skull. The assault occurred in a hotel at 1325 Stockton street and Ankle was taken to the Harbor Emergency hospital. He was unable to tell the police the circumstances leading up to the attack or give a clew to the identity of his assailant.

Widow to Contest Will of Ice King

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—A contest of the will of Joseph Martin, 72-year-old ice king, has been filed by his widow, Mrs. Lillian Spaulding Martin, who is 27 years of age. The action was begun yesterday in the local superior court. By the terms of the will Mrs. Martin is given $50 a month, but she is contesting for one-third, or $900,000 estate. The Martins were married in February of last year. Martin died five months later.

Plumbers Charge Material Boycott

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Complaint concerning certain alleged actions of the Builders' Exchange has been made by Chris Peterson, members of a local wholesale plumbing firm. The complaint was made to Judge Brannan yesterday, but because of the open shop attitude of the Builders' Exchange, efforts have been made to prevent his obtaining materials to continue work on a building at Leavenworth and Geary streets, and other buildings.

Nippon Widow Wants Bowie Will Upheld

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—A court fight was started yesterday by the Japanese widow and two children of Henry P. Bowie, student of the Orient, to uphold Bowie's estate. The contest brought by George H. Howard, Bowie's stepson. By the terms of the will the wife, Mrs. Komei Bowie, and two sons, Inao Bowie and Tawee Bowie, were left a large portion of Bowie's $200,000 estate. Bowie died in San Mateo last December.

General Morton On Honeymoon Trip

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Accompanied by his bride, who was Mrs. Eleanor Moorhead Huff of Greenburgh, Pa., Major-General Charles G. Morton, commander of the Ninth Corps Area of the army, arrived in San Francisco yesterday. They were married a week ago in New York. General Morton and his bride will go on honeymoon trip to Alaska next month.

SPARKS FIRE ROOF

ALAMEDA, June 22.—Sparks from a chimney set fire to the roof of the home of William Hoover, 2019 Broadway, Alameda. The fire, which was confined to the upper part of the building, will amount to about $1000.

Facts

FACT 1. WESTERN STATES LIFE gained more assets

FACT 2. wrote more new business (first premiums paid in cash)

FACT 3. gained more insurance in force

during 1921 than any of the other twenty-three life insurance companies domiciled West of the Rocky Mountains, with the single exception of one of these companies over forty years older than Western States Life.

These facts are disclosed by figures which have just been published from the sworn statements of the companies to the various State Insurance Departments.

FURTHERMORE, sworn statements of all the two hundred sixty-two life insurance companies in the United States show that during 1921 than any one of two hundred nineteen of these companies. The forty-two companies ahead of us averaged forty-five years of age. Western States Life, not yet twelve years old, outdistanced eighty per cent of all the companies in the business on 1921 gain of insurance in force.

FACT 4. WESTERN STATES LIFE gained more insurance in force

Why?

A WESTERN COMPANY—linked with the steady progress of the West, investing the savings of its policyholders in the development of Western enterprise.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY TO POLICYHOLDERS—cash capital exceeded by only seven life insurance companies in the United States; the full reserve on every policy deposited with the State of California.

POLICIES WITHOUT A SUPERIOR—great as was our 1921 record, summarized above, our new business for 1922 is running thirty-four per cent ahead of last year. No better evidence could be offered that Western men and women appreciate the complete protection our policies afford for FAMILY, BUSINESS and OLD AGE.

INCREASED COST OF GOVERNMENT STIRS WARNING

S. F. Attorney Tells Business Club of Needless Waste of Money.

"Today the cost of government to the average Californian is 85 per cent more than the cost of government to the average American of the other forty-seven states."

"Today thirty-three countries of the world are paying out more money than they take in, and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon tells us that next year the United States will be the thirty-fourth. Surely this is a time to go slow."

These were some of the statements made late today by Grover O'Connor, attorney of San Francisco, who spoke before members of the Oakland Mutual Business Club at their luncheon at the Hotel Oakland. The speaker warned against the useless expenditure of money, both in the state and nationally, and declared that this was a time when the financial status of the world hung in the balance. His address was directed chiefly against the proposed water and power amendment.

Firemen Taking Exam for Asst. Chief

The theory and practice of fighting fires is being set forth on white paper today by veteran smoke-eaters competing in the civil service examination for the office of assistant chief engineer of the fire department. The office has been occupied for a long time but cannot be formally held except by civil service examination. Officers of the fire department's upper circle have been studying for this test for a long time.

Those taking the tests include Acting Assistant Chief William G. Lusk and C. J. Thaler, and Battalion Chiefs Max Dohrmann and Martin Carroll.

Rival Tongs Sign Pact; End Warfare

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—After five months of warfare during which it is charged twenty-seven men were killed on the Pacific coast, the Bing Kong and Hip Sing tongs have signed a peace pact. The outbreak was initiated at Billings, Montana, where the Bing Kong established headquarters shortly after Christmas. The Hip Sing claimed this was an invasion of their territory. The peace treaty allows the Bing Kongs to remain in Montana.

Curtain Wall Issue Up to City Manager

RICHMOND, June 22.—The curtain wall between the new municipal warehouse and the street at Point Richmond over which there has been a misunderstanding between the contractor, M. Sanford, and the city council, will be arranged by City Manager McVittie and the contractor. Sanford claims that the curtain wall was not included in his bid for construction work, and in his verbal agreement with the council he says only 80 feet of wall was to be installed. The council claim, however, that the curtain wall called for the extra 30 feet for cost of material and labor, which he estimated would be $80.

Berkeley to Close One Kindergarten

BERKELEY, June 22.—The seventh street kindergarten, one of the first of its kind to be established in the city of Berkeley and one which has been especially sponsored by parent-teacher associations, will be closed.

Decision to discontinue the kindergarten has been reached by the board of education following a recommendation of Superintendent H. B. Wilson that the pupils now cared for there attend the Columbus and Franklin kindergartens, since the enrollment is declared to be small enough to allow for new pupils.

Women Swimmers Must Bring Suits

BERKELEY, June 22.—Women students at the University of California summer session who want to swim should bring their own bathing suits, is the request of university officials in charge of summer classes, which begin on Monday. The fire at Hearst Hall caused the loss of women's equipment.

Work in the department of physical education will continue as scheduled despite the fire. The women's swimming pool will be cleared and ready for use by the first of next week. New swimming suits have been ordered.

Twenty Bicycles Stolen in Berkeley

BERKELEY, June 22.—With 20 bicycles stolen in the past few days, the police are searching for members of a gang of thieves believed to be operating in Berkeley. The machines, according to the police, are probably taken to a central point, where they are taken apart and shipped out of the city. Among those losing bicycles in the past few days are Leonard Bertoli, 2220 Sacramento street; Jack Ladewig, 507 Thirty-third street, Oakland; Joseph Costin, 2612 Parker street; and Paul Dempsey, 2516 Fulton street.

THE FIRST BREAK FOR LIBERTY & WEEKS AFTER THE WEDDING

U. C. SUMMER COURSES VARIED

BERKELEY, June 22.—All regular summer sessions at the University of California will be broken next Monday when the 22d annual summer session is begun.

Applications received this far in the office of Dean Hart total 5500, while the 6000 mark is expected to be reached before the session is long under way. Registration last year was 4430, of which 2204 were teachers. Teachers are expected to lead in the registration again this year, coming from all parts of the country for the special courses to be offered.

Registration for the summer work will begin Saturday, continuing on Monday with regular class work starting on Tuesday morning. Educators from all parts of the United States, many of them noted in their respective lines, will make up the most representative faculty ever gathered for summer work.

Academic work for teachers and others, household science and arts courses for the housewife, lectures and work for the club and business women, business training for the professional person and other features to include all walks of life will be offered.

Teachers Appointed By Alameda Board

ALAMEDA, June 22.—The board of education has made the following appointments to the teaching staff of Alameda. The appointments will take effect upon the opening of the new term in August. The appointments made by C. J. DuFour are as follows:

S elementary teachers—Helen Anderson, Florence Sisk, Emily Gunn, Louise Harms Adelaide Baker, Myrtle Anderson; Marie Lindberg; home economics—Charles Rice, or Charlotte Florence O. Ford, regular substitute.

High school teachers—Luella Browne, mathematics; Adelaide S. Pike, English; Jane Gardner, or Robert Charles Rice, orchestras and bands.

Berkeley Pair May Be in Texas Flood

BERKELEY, June 22.—Fear that Mr. and Mrs. Tennant Congdon of Berkeley may be in the flood-swept area in Texas was expressed today by the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Congdon, 2527 Piedmont avenue. Congdon, a graduate of the University of California, is assistant engineer for the United Irrigation Company of Mission, Texas, where leaves have been reported to be broken. The Congdons also have received no word from their son since the flood started, several days ago.

Legion Will Decide Its Klan Attitude

ALAMEDA, June 22.—Announcement was made this morning that the meeting of Alameda Post, American Legion, will be particularly important next Tuesday, as the members will be called to vote upon their stand regarding the Ku Klux Klan. A resolution condemning the Klan and forbidding membership in it by members of Alameda Post was introduced at the last meeting of the organization.

LODGES TO DANCE

ALAMEDA, June 22.—Court Alameda, Catholic Daughters of America, will be entertained by Alameda Council, Knights of Columbus, this evening. The party, which will consist of dance and refreshment, will take place at Mason hall.

CITY MAY MOVE SCHOOLS FROM HILLY DISTRICT

BERKELEY, June 22.—Because there are too many hills to climb to the Grammont school, the board of education is contemplating moving the portable classroom to Marin avenue and Spruce street.

A tour of inspection of the territory served by the Grammont school will be made this week by the board. According to Superintendent H. B. Wilson and members of the board, parents are desirous of having the change made.

Should the new location be decided upon a dividing line will be drawn at Arlington avenue in the northern school region, all pupils residing east of that thoroughfare being assigned to the Grammont school. Thus the Oxford school enrollment would be considerably decreased, according to figures prepared by Superintendent Wilson. It is estimated that the cost of moving the portable buildings will be $400 each.

Mrs. Mary A. Lane Dies At Alameda

ALAMEDA, June 22.—Death claimed Mrs. Mary A. Lane, mother of Miss Marian Lane of the Alameda board of education, yesterday. Mrs. Lane died at her home, 946 Park street. She was 66 years of age and a native of Ireland. She is survived by her husband, Thomas Lane, and four children, Marian, Richard, Joseph and Thomas Lane. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon from the family residence.

Woman Finds Purse, Gives It To Police

BERKELEY, June 22.—Mrs. Maude Hume, artist, owner of a shop at 245 Bancroft way, is the latest person to join the Honeymooners club. Mrs. Hume turned over to the police yesterday a purse containing $1.58 which she had found near her place of business. Edward Conley, aged 16, 2217 Jefferson street, also turned in to police station a gold watch which he had found at the home of Dwight way while walking in the hills.

Trade At Home Day Proves Successful

ALAMEDA, June 22.—The results of the first Trade at Home Day by the merchant members of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce was a highly successful affair, according to Edward Babue, president of the chamber. In some instances the merchants doubled the amount of their usual Wednesday sales.

Wednesday will be observed by the merchants as sales day. This is one of the plans of the reorganized chamber to increase the business of the city.

Xaverians to Hold Summer Dansant

BERKELEY, June 22.—The Xaverians of Berkeley will hold their mid-summer dansant tomorrow night at St. Joseph's hall, Addison and Jefferson streets.

Proceeds will be used to outfit their club rooms with fixtures and to procure athletic equipment. Miss Doris Mason is in charge.

The committee who have made complete arrangements for the dansant includes Miriam Connelley, Emma Quillman, Grace Condon, Edna Morton, Norma Bates, Robert Sporn and Louis Rayman. Music will be furnished by Hoppe's College Orchestra.

UNITE TO BOOST OAKLAND IS PLEA

Oakland should, through its Chamber of Commerce, develop the same "Get Together" spirit which characterizes Chicago, Los Angeles and numerous other cities. An expenditure of $100,000 a year would be well spent if this could be brought about. All Oakland interests should be united for concerted action.

That, in brief, was the keynote of a statement made today by S. B. Swan, secretary of the Whitehorn & Swan Dry Goods Company in giving his hearty endorsement to the people of Oakland against uncoordinated investments by the organization of a bureau of commerce to increase its annual income to $100,000 to provide for a broader scope of activities.

Chamber and the city's business and industrial interests by the organization of a bureau representing interests where none now exist.

Swan said that the Chamber of Commerce should be a force to be reckoned with in the city. He said that the Chamber should follow a plan put into effect by chambers of commerce in several of the larger eastern cities and safeguard the people of Oakland against uncoordinated investments by the organization of an association or bureau that would investigate so-called "investment opportunities" which they were put over at a loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars annually to unwise investors. It could maintain constant supervision over charitable propositions to determine which were worthy of assistance and which were not.

"Payrolls and new industries are vital to the development of a city," said Swan, "but other things are equally essential. One of the most important of these is the 'Get Together' spirit. Without that no city can keep pace with the other progressive communities competing with it along business lines."

"It is that spirit that can unite the interests of a city and make them think in terms of tomorrow. Commerce is the medium through which it can best be developed. That is why I am so thoroughly sold to the need of a civic-commercial organization."

Personally, I think most of Oakland's development since 1913 can be attributed to the activity of its Chamber of Commerce. And I think a majority of the business men, merchants and business men have always been city builders. Their vision and energy are responsible for the industrial and commercial development which has gathered together to work city structures rest upon the stability of their organizations. Their influence in city life has extended far beyond material development, however. They have been concerned with the spirit of pride and devotion to their community. They are eager to publish the advantages and achievements of their larger home—their city."

El Cerrito to Have Assessor Candidate

RICHMOND, June 22.—El Cerrito will have a candidate in the race for county assessor in the person of Louis E. Davis. Davis will run against George O. Meese, incumbent. He is now engaged in the coal and wood business and is well known in the western portion of the county.

HOPE HELD OUT FOR RECOVERY OF SPEEDER VICTIM

San Jose Girl, Injured By Oakland Man's Auto, May Lose One of Limbs.

SAN JOSE, June 22.—The condition of Miss Miriam Donald, prominent young teacher of the local State Teachers' college, who was so terribly injured as the victim of a wild automobile ride by P. C. Valentine of Oakland, son of the late John J. Valentine, president of the Wells-Fargo Express company, remained critical today, with physicians, however, holding out hope for her recovery and the saving of her right leg.

Dr. William Van Dalsem, attending physician, declared today that it will be several days before it will be known whether or not amputation of Miss Donald's leg, just above the ankle, will be necessary. The young woman's foot is horribly crushed and fear is held that saving it will be impossible. Unless infection sets in, Dr. Van Dalsem stated today, Miss Donald will recover.

Valentine is in the county jail here.

Richmond Boys' Camp Is Success

RICHMOND, June 22.—All reports from Camp Laf-A-Lot, the summer camp in Lake county where 105 Richmond boys are enjoying a ten-day vacation for $10 each, indicate that summer camps of former seasons have been eclipsed.

As the second camp starts tomorrow, it is desired that all who intend to make the trip sign up by tonight at the Chamber of Commerce. The girls' camp will start July 3, at the close of the second boys' camp. Mrs. Brammer and Miss Jane Curnow will have charge of the girls. The cost for the outing will be the same as with the boys.

Niles Business Men Protest S. P. Split

NILES, June 22.—A petition of protest will be dispatched by the Niles business men against the proposed divorce of the Southern and Central Pacific railroads, it was announced here today. The protest will be founded upon the alleged resultant cut in freight and passenger traffic should the separation of the roads be permitted.

The tracks through Niles are owned by the Central Pacific. It is claimed that should the separation come Niles would be cut off from her present transcontinental passenger trains, while freight shipped through here would have to be transferred.

El Cerrito to Have Assessor Candidate

RICHMOND, June 22.—El Cerrito will have a candidate in the race for county assessor in the person of Louis E. Davis. Davis will run against George O. Meese, incumbent. He is now engaged in the coal and wood business and is well known in the western portion of the county.

U. S. Leads World in Use of Drugs Astonishing Facts Are Laid Bare Sixty Times as Much as Europe

AMERICA leads the world—in the use of drugs. The day of "muck-raking," with its hysterical charges and counter-charges—all colored to make "good reading"—is past. We have now the sane and certain investigation, which places before us facts in figures. And figures, it is said, do not lie.

The United States treasury department has followed the trail of the drug evil—which is The Trail of the Serpent. An investigation by that department shows a state of things that, unsupported by evidence, would be discredited. Not in the palmiest days of muck-raking have there been such astonishing disclosures—all backed by figures, facts.

"Sixty times as much opium and other drugs are used in the United States in proportion to the number of people, as are used in any other civilized nation."

The serpent trails its slimy length through cities, towns, and smiling country ways. Drugs are sold on the streets to school children. We find addicts as young as nine years of age.

The assistant secretary of the treasury department recognizes the "educational value" of the greatest collaborative serial which The TRIBUNE is publishing, in the following letter, received by Mrs. Torrey Connor, author of the story-plot:

"I take this occasion to commend your good work in your syndicate story dealing with the spread of the drug evil. This is a subject of the greatest importance to the country. Such splendid educational work as this story is doing should be highly commended by those who are familiar with, or in any way associated with, the suppression of the illegal sale of drugs."

"ELMER DOVER."

The TRIBUNE's story, "The Trail of the Serpent," shows, in fictional form conditions as they exist in California. No more thrilling chapter of the story has been written than that which will appear in next Sunday's TRIBUNE. Charles Caldwell Dobie, one of the four great short story writers in America, author of two novels which show his power in the sustained story, and dramatist of note, has written the chapter, in collaboration with Frances Hollister, Californian, author of "Delusions," and writer of short stories that are distinctive in style.

WOMEN RESENT BAN AS JURORS

RICHMOND, June 22.—The members of the venire drawn for the trial of A. C. Serpa on a bootlegger charge Tuesday, who walked into Police Judge C. A. Odell's court and were dismissed because all were women, evidently are not satisfied with their dismissal following Attorney Tom Larson's challenge.

One who was on the venire gave out a statement after the dismissal in which she said:

"City Attorney Hall said the law had been complied with in securing the venire, but it would be better to take a chance. Officer Shirley, who selected the venire, had made the selection of women unbiased, but he, too, felt it best to excuse the ladies from serving. These women are all wondering what City Attorney Hall meant by 'best not to take a chance,' and whether he meant a chance of a fair trial. Why the objection when women have been tried by juries composed of all men, down through the ages."

"They are fair-minded, honest, thinking women who would either know how to take evidence, well, they are thinking and will not forget. Our Chief and his deputy have our respect."

PLEASANTON MEN TO ENTER RODEO

PLEASANTON, June 22.—Three Pleasanton men will ride in the Livermore rodeo, it was announced here today. Manuel Briones, Jose Sanchez and William Martin, three well known riders from here, are preparing for the rodeo. Martin will enter the fancy roping contests. Frankie Frager, who planned to enter the rodeo, will probably be unable to do so, because of a wrenched back recently suffered.

Major Sven Christensen, it was said here today, will enter two or three horses in the races. Jack Marsh, trainer for Major Christensen, and "Sleepy" Armstrong will ride the horses.

New Building to Be Department Store

RICHMOND, June 22.—A department store will occupy the corner of Eighth street and Nevin avenue by Robert A. Read, proprietor of Read's Dry Goods Store, who purchased the three lots from Frank B. Bay for $7500. The new store will have a floor space of 8000 square feet, according to Read, and will be modern in every particular.

FIVE TEACHERS ADDED TO STAFF OF HIGH SCHOOL

Mills College Graduate Is Named to Assist in Gymnasium Training.

SAN JOSE, June 22.—Five new teachers have been added to the faculty of the San Jose High school by the local city board of education, according to an announcement today following a special meeting of the board. The new instructors will take up their duties the first of the fall semester, it was announced.

Miss Florence A. Jones, a recent graduate of Mills College, has been signed by the school authorities to assist in the girls' gymnasium work, which has rapidly grown in proportions.

Miss Florence C. Ita, a graduate of the Stout Institute and a student of Chicago University, has been secured for the home economics department, which has also enjoyed such a heavy "patronage" that the enlarging of the force was necessitated.

In the Latin and history department Miss Camille Rolson, recently of the Cloverdale high school, has been appointed to substitute, to take the place of Miss Cory, who leaves for a year's study abroad.

Miss Myrtle Jenkins is to teach mathematics and science. It was announced. The young woman is an honor graduate of the San Jose High school, having at the time of her graduation been awarded the scholarship to the University of California. During the present year she has been teaching in Watsonville.

Miss Mary Parks of the commercial department, Mr. Watson of the science department and Miss Gladys Steiling of the art department have been made regular members of the school faculty. Miss Condit is planning a trip to Chili, Argentine and Peru for a year's study, it was announced.

Families Observe Double Anniversary

RICHMOND, June 22.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Kelley, 665 Eighteenth street, will observe Sunday of double wedding anniversary. The Kelleys observed their crystal anniversary and Mr. Kelley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kelley of San Francisco, celebrated their forty-second anniversary. Those who took part in the double observance included Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kelley, Miss Ethel Kelley, George Dixon, Misses Ethel and Lillian Dixon, all of San Francisco; Dr. and Mrs. J. P. King of Oakland; Mrs. W. I. Gavin and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Kelley of Richmond.

THIEVES ROB CHURCH

BERKELEY, June 22.—Property belonging to Trinity M. E. church, Bancroft way and Dana street, was visited by sneak thieves and a motor valued at $50 stolen, from the sanctuary, according to a report made to the police by Dr. E. P. Dennett, pastor.

NEWEST CHINESE PUZZLE.
China is facing in its tariff problem a situation as peculiar and as perplexing as any of the queer mix-ups which have been imposed on that country by war or politics. Within the next few weeks the world will hear much of Chinese tariff revision, for the delegates of the Treaty Powers and the representatives of the Chinese government are to revise the schedules in conformity with the decision of the Washington Conference. The possibilities, and indeed the only courses apparent, are filled with astonishingly inverted and paradoxical aspects.
There can be no reciprocity surrounding the new Chinese tariff because, under the Most Favored Nation Clause, the benefit given to one Treaty Power may be available to all. Japan, for instance, might be able to make a reciprocity agreement on certain commodities. Immediately the United States and Great Britain would be entitled to the same rates.
Out of this situation it was thought for a while that Germany, as a Non-Treaty Power, would have an advantage, but it has been discovered the reverse is true. The Treaty Powers may claim any benefits given Germany, but China, on the other hand, may impose on the Non-Treaty nations any tariff it sees fit. Once again the effect of this would appear to be nullified because Germany, for instance, may ship its goods to China by way of Holland or Great Britain and thus escape the additional penalty.
China, as has often been the case, would appear to be in position to take any number of courses which lead nowhere and to act in ways which mean nothing. The important results of the coming conference at Shanghai will be the fixing of a rate for the Treaty Powers, a rate which, for the present at least, will be about five per cent.

THE FISHING FLEET.
A half hundred years ago two men from Oakland sailed up the coast to Oregon and there, in the mouth of the Rogue river, opened the first of the salmon canneries. They established what is now one of the greatest industries of this port, but, like many another pioneer, met with little except hardship and discouragement.
The first of the canned salmon would not sell. Men said if they were going to eat fish they would take them fresh out of the water and laughed at the Oakland men. Today thirty or more vessels put out of the estuary each year for Alaska and points along the coast. The Star of Alaska last year brought in 68,028 cases of salmon. The lowest catch was 13,450 cases. In two or three months the fishermen will be coming home again and the results may be compared with those of a year ago.
When it is considered that the ships out of this port for the salmon fields brought back close to 900,000 cases last year and that each or one ships took with it close to 200 men, an impression may be carried as to the size of this Oakland industry.

CALAVERAS AND FROGS.
It is only in the past few weeks that anyone has had the temerity to dispute with Mark Twain on the subject of bullfrogs. Calaveras county has been accorded the palm, or perhaps the pond lily, for so many years that men have linked it mentally with the largest of frogs and have foregone attempts at verification or research.
California is put on its mettle by an Oklahoma claim that the bass singing frogs in that State leave the moonlit pools long enough to rob henroosts and a good-sized chicken is no more than an ordinary meal for one of their number.
As a matter of strictest accuracy Calaveras county has long heard of hen-eating frogs. There used to be some concern among the chicken raisers in the mining county until the expedient of placing the roosts out of jumping range was tried successfully. The loss in chickens now, according to late figures, is almost negligible.

But Calaveras has a problem of its own. There are some oldtimers up there who have tired of the daily routine of digging gold and would like to go into the hog raising business. They are being forced to wait until they perfect some means to protect the porkers from the bullfrogs.

PAYING FOR TITLES.
Need for new revenues in Spain is responsible for a discovery which, with a little alteration, might be applied to this country. It is the profitable expedient of taxing titles. There is a schedule on the names under the Spanish plan, a scale which, it is presumed, rises with the height of the tiara or, possible, of the family tree.
The man in Spain who would inherit the title of duke, if the scheme is tried out, will turn over to the government 24,000 pesetas. If he does not pay he is not to receive, under penalty of law, so much as an obsequious bow and his friends may call him "Bill" or "Joe" as the case may be. Moreover, it will cost the duke 4,000 pesetas a year to have the title put before his name on invitations and bills. If his only pleasure will be that of self-congratulation that he is not a marquis or a count, in which case the scale is all but prohibitory. Spanish nobles, in opposing the measure, say it will be impossible for them to pay, with the result that many old titles will be dropped. They intimate that, in the end, the government will find it has raised no money and has done no more than wipe out some honorable and euphonious prefixes. The government idea is that a duke would mortgage his palace, drawbridge and moat before he would consent to be called "Mister," and that debt is to be routed by the tax on titles.
In this country there is opportunity for a tax on all persons who take to themselves without warrant, such titles as "Colonel," "Major" and "Captain." There is chance, perhaps, to make it profit the government when men respond to "Old Boy," "Oldtimer" and "Partner." Those who affect "Two-Gun," "Dead-Eye" and the like will be expected to contribute and, no doubt, there are many more. A tax on titles might solve a large number of difficulties.

THE FALL OF THE MIGHTY.
The things that are happening to Babe Ruth illustrate how the mighty may fall. Last year the acclaim with which he was received every time he appeared was glad some indeed. It appeared to go to his head, and he felt to be a bigger man than Kenesaw Mountain Landis, who is being paid a salary almost as big as Ruth's to make rulings in baseball matters.
The Babe made a mistake in this and drew a month's suspension in consequence, which kept him out of the game so that he has no chance to shatter batting records. Besides, it seems to have got him off his stride, which has operated on his temper, which resulted in other suspensions by the league president, which is in a way to alienate the worship of the fans.
In some circles the situation would be set forth in language to the effect that they had "got his goat."

Bootleggers are now said to be menaced by a species of bandits called "highjackers," who lay in wait especially for operators in illicit booze. It is understood that they are more likely than prohibition agents to put the bootleggers out of business. A droll situation results from the duty of police officials to come to the assistance of bootleggers in such onslaughts. If it could be established that the robbery of those engaged in an unlawful business is not in turn unlawful, enforcement agents would receive automatic assistance.

Conflagrations do not discriminate. They pass by food for flames that might with some propriety be consumed, to destroy edifices which can ill be spared. If the fire in the university demesne had licked up some of the old buildings instead of Hearst Hall there would not have been a great calamity. It is especially unfortunate that such a catastrophe should occur just at this time, when the public attitude as to legislative appropriations was in a way to be tried for other purposes.

Ambassador Harvey's troubles are varied. They range from criticism of his knee breeches to a son-in-law charged with Sinn Fein plotting. The latter trouble is especially untimely, considering his official status as Minister to Great Britain. But he has emerged from embarrassment before, and it may be that he will come smiling through this situation. Anyhow, from what may be judged of this outspoken American, it is reasonable to conclude that he is not cast down with worry.

Fresno's association whose mission is to induce the populace to "eat more raisins" has developed friction. The president has knocked the secretary through a window. The great success of the association has indicated unusual vigor in the management, and now there is a demonstration of its exact location.

DAILY ALMANAC

Denver welcomed its first train, a puff and grunt contraption which made the distance from Cheyenne without accident but palpitating nevertheless, in 1870. . . . Fire destroyed a part of Tombstone, Arizona, in 1881. . . . John Skelton died in 1829. . . . Thales, in 546 B. C. . . . The Big Vacation starts Monday.

Attention Contributors.
As intimated several times the Big Vacation starts with the end of this week. Contributors should bear in mind that Archie, a hard working and faithful individual, will be put to it to fill all the space we have filled each day. Archie is a willing fellow, but temperamental. On one day he might be able to fill a whole page and on the next he would look out of the window and chew up a score of pencils to no avail.
It is well, then, to humor Archie. It will delight his soul if the contributors send him their best efforts. "I would like to see everyone represented in the Almanac during your absence," Archie informs us. "I have an ambition to make the thing more democratic and besides," Archie is honest in spite of himself, "it means less work for me."
To encourage those who may consider the task of rescuing Archie we are prepared to offer a hand engraved collar button as first prize for best joke, essay or poem printed in our absence. We will say that Archie is prepared to accept free verse, lyrics, catch-as-catch-can, rapid-fire, and scrambled. Difficult jokes should carry their own diagrams. Double meanings and jokes intended to be fired over the heads of the populace should bear return envelopes.
Archie is all set. He stays awake nights thinking up essays and rhymes and is talking, real biggity, about how easy a job it is to do nothing but write an Almanac. It is up to the Contributors to make life interesting for him.

The Nautical Club.
(By Charlotte Becker)
It lies beneath the water, fathoms deep,
Rotting and rusting through the centuries;
Dank mosses hide its golden pilasters,
And sea snakes through its broken cabins creep.
And o'er its sunken treasures vigil keep;
Bones whiten on its slimy, gutted deck
And great fish at this human fodder peck.
While o'er its masts grim monsters whine and leap.

Sometimes the divers, like strange idols clad,
Descend upon its ruined, ancient hulk,
And shudder, as they watch the sea folk skulk.
Trailing the misty wreaths that noiseless pass
Through the drowned ship that sailed from Salem town,
And left no man to tell how it went down.

One may say that up to the three-mile limit at least the Volstead Act is making a more or less determined effort to follow the flag.

"Who ever saw an angel with bobbed hair?" asks a Chicago preacher. There are many obvious retorts and the request is pertinent the Chicago preacher describes the manner of hair-dress on the angels he has seen. We do not know why a bob-haired angel would not fit the role as well as any other. Besides, it is June and we are (as ever) young—and we have a bobbed-haired angel in mind.

American liners, says Pussyfoot Johnson, are bootlegged sedas. "Bootleg," perhaps, may be pardoned as liquor is being sold. Why the bays on the vessels—and they are not yet declared illegal—should make a scow of a liner is something to puzzle the mariner. As well say that a dog's head makes a basket of a liner or that—and this is very subtle—a putterer on the passenger list makes of it a motor boat.

NOTES and COMMENT
From the Portland Oregonian:
"It is one thing to know how to build a fire in the woods with two sticks and another to do it in violation of law, as has been learned by the couple who went into the Maine woods to prove that modern man had the wit to make a living as his primitive ancestors did. If Adam and Eve, indeed, were to return they would, likely, be more impressed by the multiplicity of ordinances made necessary by growth of population than by any essential changes in the flora and fauna. The Maine woods couple succeeded in violating three statutes in as many days."
The Chicago Tribune and the sufferings of animals: "The Tribune printed an advertisement yesterday morning headed 'The Great Cruelty,' and stating that the need of the slaughter of food animals in the United States were greater than the other sufferings of these animals combined. We do not know what is meant by that statement, or what is the design of the advertising. It has been refused further space until an investigation determines what is its purpose."
Kansas City Star on the unexpectedness of certain books: "New novels by the authors of 'Main Street' and 'If Winter Comes' are expected in the near future. Will they have the phenomenal success of their predecessors? Who can say. Authors and publishers alike were surprised by the enormous vogue of these two stories. They thought the novels were good. They had no idea they would capture the reading public as they did."
How the kaisers make worry for the bankers, in the judgment of the Chicago News: "These kaisers and junkers who make war certainly bring a lot of worry to the bankers who have to finance the busted world afterward."

SPIRIT OF STATE PRESS
It is probably stretching things to deduce that the annual "Palma Parade" of Encina Club at Stanford has a precedent at the University of Cambridge, but an analogy might be based on the following paragraph in the regulations: "That no undergraduates be permitted to appear within the limits of the college, or town of Cambridge, in any other dress than is before described, unless he has on a night gown, or an outside garment be necessary over his coat."—Palo Alto Times.
More homeseekers are coming to California, railroad officials say, than to any other state in the West. This state is better advertised than any of its sister commonwealths, but the advertising is effectual in drawing homeseekers.—Long Beach Press.
It doesn't sound strictly American, but the news wires tell us that we are going to have the Duke of Argyll as a land-holder in the San Joaquin valley, the Butte-willow ranch of 150,000 acres near Bakersfield, a part of the Miller and Lux holdings, having been sold to a syndicate headed by him.—Stockton Record.

PORTABLE PLAYHOUSES.
Portable playhouses are a very interesting feature of the Hartford (Conn.) playgrounds. They have red canvas roofs and wire netting walls and each is furnished with a small wooden table, four chairs and a set of wooden blocks. So light are these houses that they can be picked up and carried about to different parts of the parks and arranged in different ways—in a circle, in rows as if facing the village street or as country places with spacious yards. In these Little Putsen villages children of the playing house age never to community life—playing alone and bank, going to church, going to the theater and just keeping house.

JUST FOLKS
By EDGAR A. GUEST
THE LESSON OF THE CRATE.
It seemed an unimportant task,
Too trifling for a chief to ask,
A little thing, nor could he see
The need to do it thoroughly;
He fancied none could ever tell
Whether he did it very well
Or slighted it, yet truth to say
On him depended much that day.
He was to nail a wooden crate.
No chance in that for splendor great.
No chance to prove his gift of skill,
A thankless post, was his to fill;
Well-nailed or not, 't would be the same.
The world would never learn his name—
And yet that wooden crate was filled
With what had taken months to build.
He did not see or understand
Just what was passing 'neath his hand.
That as that wooden crate was nailed,
A plan succeeded or it failed;
That miles away men stood in wait
Depending on that simple crate,
For not a wheel could turn or drive
Until it safely should arrive.
He drove his nails, and let it go,
Thinking that none would ever know
Whose hand had held the hammer there.
On knowing it, would ever care;
Yet in a few brief days there came
The news that burned his cheeks
With shame:
"Broken in shipment and we stay Facing another month's delay."
Vain is the skill of workmen great,
Unless the boy who makes the crate
Shall give his best to driving nails
The work of all the others fails;
There is no unimportant task,
Wherever any life may ask.
On it depends the greater plan—
There is no unimportant man!

CONAN DOYLE'S PROPHECY.
Conan Doyle, returning to England, modestly recalls that he was "a pretty good prophet" in predicting some of the things the Germans would do and how they would attempt to do them. Now he is ready to prophesy again. Within ten years, he predicts, there will be "a landslide in this country to spiritualism and it will be the prevailing religion." He does not claim to have made many converts, but Americans, he says, are more open-minded than people in other countries. He also says up as willing "to try anything once."—Capper's Weekly.

about YOUR HEALTH
What Old Folks Can Do for Relief From Bronchitis
By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.
One of the recurring and disagreeable diseases of old age is bronchitis. Sometimes it is associated with bronchial asthma, when it becomes particularly uncomfortable and even dangerous to life.
Bronchitis of adults is more common in persons past middle life. Some persons seem susceptible to the disease, and are liable to frequent attacks.
City conditions predispose to it. This is true of cities where no effort is made to control the smoke. There is no excuse for having a city covered by a pall of dense smoke. There are smoke consumers and improved methods of burning even the poorest brands of soft coal. A little care will prevent this evil.
In certain communities no effort is made to lay the dust of the streets. This irritating, choking stuff is permitted to blow in clouds and carry misery wherever it goes. There are certain industries where gases are generated. When these are breathed into the lungs there is irritation of the tissues which may end in an attack of bronchitis.
On account of the irritating air of the cities, persons who can afford it run off to the clear air of the mountains or seashore just as soon as they feel the oncoming of an attack.
Of course, there must be a certain susceptibility, otherwise irritating substances would have no more effect on the victim of bronchitis than they have on the rest of us. Personally, I am satisfied that back of the average attack of bronchial asthma is some sort of food poisoning or failure of elimination of the body wastes.
Show me a coughing, "fratting-checked" asthmatic old person, and I will show you a person who suffers from chronic constipation or from indigestion in eating.
Nasal catarrh is often associated with bronchitis. Neglected teeth or diseased gums are other factors. Wherever large quantities of pus germs are found anywhere in the head, there may be attacks of bronchitis.
Winter time and the changeable weather of spring and fall are bad for the bronchitic and asthmatic patient. The more uniform the weather the better for the victim.
If you are subject to bronchitis or bronchial asthma, you must take pains to keep your living-rooms at a fairly uniform temperature. There may be a certain degree of enervation in the steam-heated house, but there can be no doubt that, even temperature is a great protection against acute attacks of the bronchial diseases.
The victim of such attacks should take pains to keep his body scrupulously clean, his nose and throat should be cleaned, and the organs of elimination should be made to function properly.
Needless to say, the condition of the heart and of the other organs is an important factor. Bronchitis is an obstinate disease, and bronchial asthma is even more stubborn. In order to overcome either, there must be careful study of all the possible causes.
The surest guarantee of safety from attack is to give attention to all those simple rules of hygiene which make for good health. Gentle exercise, simple food, fresh air and attention to the needs and functions of the body should protect against bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

AMARANTH ORDER INSTALLS NEWLY NAMED OFFICERS

Newly elected supreme officers of the Order of Amaranth were installed last night with impressive ceremonies at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, where the twenty-fifth assembly of the order is being held. Past Supreme Royal Patron Arthur H. Ziegler and Past Supreme Royal Matron Maude G. Barton were in charge of the ceremonies. The installation was followed by a program.

A special session of the assembly was held this morning when the resolutions committee, with George A. Darling of Oakland as chairman, presented their report. The assembly was officially scheduled to end yesterday but debate over the revision of the ritual and the constitution of the supreme constitution occupied the entire time of the delegates yesterday. The resolution of Dr. Flora Smith of Kingsburg, candidate for the California Assembly from the fifth district, pledging the support of the Amaranth in assisting the authorities in stamping out the narcotic evil, was among those presented.

Activities of the delegates were transferred to San Francisco at the close of the business session this morning. A social program is being presented there to them for the remainder of the day, including a luncheon at a downtown cafe, an auto ride throughout the city through the courtesy of the Chamber of Commerce, and a dinner this evening at the Golden Gate Commandery hall, with the past royal patrons and the past royal matrons and the Past Royal Matrons' Association of California acting as hosts.

A reception tomorrow night by Crescent Court of San Francisco to the new supreme officers, at King Solomon's hall will conclude the assembly.

DISABLED VETERANS GATHERING

Convention of Organization of World War Heroes Will Open in San Francisco
Monday, Continuing Week

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—From all sections of the United States members of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War are arriving in San Francisco for the national convention of their organization which will be held here all next week.

The convention will open Monday morning and continue through Saturday. Arrival of the delegates began in earnest late today and it was estimated that 1500 will be in the city before nightfall.

Judge Robert S. Marx, national commander of the organization, and Ralph S. Horr, national senior vice commander, arrived here last night. The remaining national officials and executive committee members are due here tonight and the first regular meeting of the officials will be held Saturday morning in the Italian ballroom of the Hotel St. Francis. Most of the delegates will arrive Saturday.

SIGHT-SEEING ARRANGED.

Throughout Saturday afternoon the veterans' delegates and visitors will be taken on an automobile sight-seeing tour through the city and down the peninsula. In the evening the pre-conventional ball will be held in the Colonial and Italian ballrooms of the Hotel St. Francis.

Special services will be held Sunday morning in all churches, of every denomination, with sermons by army and navy chaplains on the work of the convention of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War.

National officers and members of the executive committee will hold a second session at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, while the afternoon will be taken up with automobile sight-seeing tours and an army flying circus at the Presidio.

BANQUET ARRANGED.

National Commander Judge Robert S. Marx, of National Chaplain Michael Aaronson, "the blinded hero of the Argonne," and all members of the organization, will be banqueted at 6 o'clock Sunday evening. The night "open house" for members of the organization will be held by San Francisco Lodge No. 3, B. P. O. E., at 540 Powell street, and by the Jewish Welfare Board, and the Y. M. H. A., Haight and Gough streets.

Mme. Kalova, Russ Violinist, to Be Heard in Claremont Concert

MME. LIZETTA KALOVA, young Russian violinist, who will be heard in concert in Berkeley on Friday evening.

Mrs. Parrish Moyle Will Sing; Dance Scheduled to Follow Selections

BERKELEY, June 22.—Mrs. Gilbert Moyle, well known in musical and social circles about the bay, will appear in a concert at the Hotel Claremont on Friday evening.

Supplementing Mrs. Moyle's songs will be violin selections by Lizetta Kalova, young Russian violinist. Edgar Albert Thorpe will be the accompanist of the evening.

Following the concert a dancing will be held.

Mrs. Moyle, who sings under the name of Mme. Florida Parrish-Moyle, possesses a soprano voice which has won her recognition in musical circles.

Mme. Kalova, who has toured Europe and this country, has been accorded unusual praise by Professor Auger, teacher of Helvet, Eimann and Zimbalist, as the greatest of women violinists.

BACCUS TO CUT HARD IN CITY BUDGET

Nearly Every Department
Engaged in Struggle to Secure Money Needed to Meet Oakland Expansion

A quiet, but determined, battle involving every city department, has started as a result of Commissioner William J. Bacchus' announced intention to cut down all the budget askings of all the departments to the irreducible minimum.

The departments have one idea of how little they can get along on, and Bacchus has a smaller idea. The pressure, it is admitted, is being brought to save some of the requests of some of the departments, especially where expansion is held to be necessary.

The askings of the harbor department for instance, went several hundred thousand dollars above last year's expenditures, but the askings allow for vastly increased work of improvement. They have been chopped. The electrical department, faced with underground conduit work throughout the business district, as more, it has been chopped. The public betterment and Lake Merritt development funds, aggregating more than $100,000 in requests this year, have also been chopped.

WILL CUT STILL DEEPER.

Bacchus asserts that he must cut still further. He says he must cut the same tax rate as last year, if possible. It is admitted that this means the scuttling of many plans and projects, and the department heads affected are struggling vehemently to save what they can.

"Throw some other department overboard if you must," is the unanimous cry, "but save ours."

The job of acting as Simon Legree to the budget, including the roles of being a department guardian, is beginning to get "thick," according to Bacchus, who asserts that the pressure this year outstrips any pressure sustained in past years by any commissioner of finance.

DUE TO CITY EXPANSION.

Part of the trouble, it is admitted, comes because of the quick expansion of the city. One of the budget is to cut down estimates and yet preserve a proper measure of police and fire safety.

The fire department asks $282,000 this year, or considerably more than last year. Chief Sam Short asserts that most of the increase is practically mandatory.

"The city has expanded by $30,000 in building permits in the last two years," says Chief Short, "and yet we have only had one new fire engine in that time, and that was to replace a machine that was scrapped."

"We need three new fire engines this year, partly to replace worn ones. We need a truck and engine company for the Fifth avenue district. We need new firehouses on Twenty-third avenue and at Market and Milton streets. We need an engine company for the district at Seventy-third avenue and at Hill boulevard. We need an engine company for Lakeshore and Grand avenues. We need 21 more men. Those are just some of the things which are necessary and which we must have."

OTHER APPLICANTS.

The police department is in a similar fix, though its requested increase is smaller. This department admits it needs a larger number of men to handle the traffic and general police problems which increase as the size of the city increases.

The public works department is still another applicant. This department handles all city buildings and property, not to mention the vast waterfront improvements, and some of the city buildings are asserted to be in need of repair. This particularly applies to some of the older fire houses.

The street department has plenty of need. The expansion of the city's business or residence districts is held to be practically obligatory. Then there are the jobs of opening the various downtown streets, with the assistance of the legal department, to create new commercial traffic arteries. Much of this cost comes from the assessment districts affected, but the city must underwrite the heavy expenses also. Such jobs as the paving of Telegraph avenue creates more expense.

to whom Stewart is alleged to have been married within the past four years. His lawful wife, Mary Barbara James Mitchell, also resides here, as does Miss Gertrude Van Lipik, to whom Stewart was engaged to be married, but who broke with him after several of her relatives endorsed alleged worthless checks issued by the former nihilist.

More Poles Are Donated For "Necklace of Light"

More poles for the "necklace of lights" around Lake Merritt were donated by citizens today to Commissioner Bacchus, City Treasurer Anderson and City Electrician Hardy, the latest donation being from the Oakland Round Table and Dr. A. B. Cosad, whose offers were in the early morning mail.

"Meanwhile, the whole city administration is backing the 'pole project' and starting other tentative ideas for the permanent beautification of Lake Merritt."

"I have always contended that this lake is Oakland's natural beauty spot above all others," says Mayor Davis, "and the improvement of the lake is one of the city's most important jobs."

"NOTHING TOO GOOD."

The dredging of the waters, the installation of the permanent artistic duck rookery, the beautification of the auditorium grounds and the improvement of the Lakeside Park gardens are but part of the work done toward this end. The festooning of brilliant lights around the lake is a fine idea and fits in with the rest.

"The time will come when Oakland will be as proud of Lake Merritt as Chicago of Michigan boulevard or New York of Central park. Nothing can be too good for this beauty spot which nature has given Oakland."

Mayor Davis admitted he is considering a plan to have band concerts on boats in the middle of the lake, but points out that the Edoff bandstand has been donated for the musical entertainments about the lake and is sufficient for all needs.

MUSIC ON WATER.

It was suggested that the Sunday concerts be given from a barge or tug. The objections are that the plan might entail considerable expense and give the music that "tinny" effect which comes over an expanse of flat water.

"I'm considering the matter, perhaps for special occasions like the Fourth of July," says Mayor Davis. "Meanwhile, the donations of individual poles are continuing to pour into the office of Commissioner Bacchus. The donor of each decorative iron pole will be entitled to have his name on a permanent tablet thereon, and Bacchus asserts that he hopes the chain of 560 poles 'will be a directory of generous donors throughout the city.'"

BARROWS TO HEAD PARADE JULY FOURTH

President of University Is Chosen Grand Marshal of Procession to Be Held;
Troops Are to Take Part

David P. Barrows, president of the University of California, and commander of the 159th Infantry, today was chosen as grand marshal of the military and civic parade to be held in Oakland on July Fourth. It was announced by the committee on arrangements.

The military units which will participate in the parade will include regular troops from the Presidio, a detachment of marines and a naval unit, the 159th Infantry and Batteries A and B of the Field Artillery of the California National Guard.

The committee announced that a prize will be awarded the military unit which marches best during the parade. A trophy also will be awarded the best marching uniform drill team. Among the organizations which will participate will be Aahmes Temple of the Mystic Shrine, Aahmes Patrol, the Elks, De Molay boys, Redmen, Woodmen, Eagles and Scouts.

All organizations intending to join in the parade are requested to notify the parade committee at once. Richard Lyman Jr., telephone 2400, is chairman of the general committee.

Monroe M. Friedman, chairman of the decorations committee, has requested the merchants and citizens to either leave up the decorations used during the Shrine carnival or to preserve them for the Fourth. The lights on Lake Merritt will be left up and the four taint in the center of the lake will be intact for the evening of July Fourth.

RADIO CONCERTS IN PARK PLANNED

SAN LEANDRO, June 22.—Headed by J. E. Faustina, of this city, a move is being made where merchants of San Leandro will install a complete radio receiving set, with loud speaker attachment, on the city plaza. Night concerts may be enjoyed by the people of San Leandro through the summer as a result, according to Faustina, in place of the former band concerts, discontinued because of lack of funds.

A preliminary canvass of merchants of the town showed the greatest enthusiasm for the plan. A petition is being circulated by H. H. Iverson, assistant city marshal, who is actively interested in the idea.

DURANT ABSOLVED OF FRAUD CHARGE

R. C. (Cliff) Durant has been exonerated of any charge of fraud or false representation in connection with the suit of Sam J. Silva and F. W. Shores against Durant in an old legal paper filed by the plaintiffs in the suit.

Durant was made defendant several months ago in a suit filed by Shores and Silva, who sought to recover $10,000 paid Durant for a claim of blooded cattle, which they claim were afflicted with a strange malady which rendered them unfit for breeding. Superior Judge Kinsey, who heard the suit, found in favor of Durant, holding that he was ignorant of the taint in the cattle at the time of the sale.

The paper filed is termed an "exoneration," and reads:

"In making settlement of judgment in the above-entitled action, we, the plaintiffs therein, do hereby exonerate the defendant, R. C. Durant, personally of any charge of fraud and false representation in the matter set forth in the complaint in said action and state that in all our dealings with R. C. Durant personally he has dealt with us honestly, fairly and as a gentleman."

Marconi to Discuss Radio Through Air

NEW YORK, June 22.—Wireless waves will carry the voice of Guglielmo Marconi, wireless wizard, to thousands of radio fans throughout the country Monday night. Marconi, visiting the United States on his palatial laboratory yacht, will discuss radio from the powerful broadcasting station at Schenectady, where he will be the guest of the General Electric Company.

Marconi will discuss the progress, and if the proposed Tenth street extension is cut through south of the auditorium that will be another costly mistake to be out of Bacchus' hands next week, after he has pruned it, and then the city council as a whole will endeavor to cram it into a workable tax rate.

Four Wives on List of Stewart, Unfrosted Pastor

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—"I can't live with my past; the public won't let me."

So mourned Donald D. Stewart, unfrosted clergyman, who, in the city jail today, was awaiting the arrival here of officers from Boston, who plan to take him back to that city to meet charges of bigamy, grand larceny and conspiracy.

With Stewart, when he was arrested Tuesday night at Sierra Madre, about 20 miles from Los Angeles, was Mrs. Ethel Turner Osbaldeston Stewart, the second of the four wives he is said to have married, and who also was taken into custody. She is charged with having conspired with him to effect his alleged marriage to Norma Ehrenseller, of Boston, from whom he is said to have stolen $2500.

RECORD OF WEDDINGS.

Reports of operatives of the private detective agency who arrested the couple were incomplete, it was stated, as to the various charges said to have been placed against Stewart in various sections of the country, but they listed his alleged marriages as follows:

First—to Mary Mitchell, Wilmington, Del., in 1918. A child was born to them, and Stewart is alleged to have deserted his wife and baby.

Second—to Ethel Turner Osbaldeston at New York in 1920. He is said to have deserted her.

Third—to Bertha Ellen Grannis at Indianapolis in 1921. He is said to have deserted her.

Fourth—to Norma Ehrenseller at Boston in 1921, with the alleged connivance of Mrs. Ethel Turner Osbaldeston Stewart, with whom he is said to have effected a reconciliation a short time before. He disappeared shortly after the marriage to Miss Ehrenseller.

In addition to these marriages, the detectives charge he obtained $1250 through the endorsement of a check by Bertha Ellen Grannis Stewart and that when he deserted her he took his departure in her brother's automobile; that he stole $2500 from Norma Ehrenseller Stewart, and that through an alleged courtship of Miss Gertrude Van Lipik, an art teacher, of Detroit, in 1921, he defrauded her relatives of $10.

ONCE VICE CRUSADER.

Stewart, 37 years old and a native of Scotland, attained considerable prominence in California a few years ago through his work as a vice crusader and temperance leader, and as the author of prohibition campaign song, "We'll Make California Dry." After Mrs. Maude Hendricks committed suicide at Hayward, Cal., December 30, 1914, when he refused to marry her, and he was arrested for a statutory offense, he was unfrosted because of lack of evidence.

Stewart is known also as Donald Allister Stewart and as Robert Allan McLaren Brown. The latter is said to be his true name. He has filled pastorates in Dundee, Lake, N. B.; Patterson, N. J.; San-derson, Texas; Douglas, Arizona, and Chicago, Cal.

DETROIT RECORD.

DETROIT, June 22.—A charge of conspiracy to defraud may be brought here against Donald D. Stewart, held in Los Angeles on a fugitive warrant, but authorities of Massachusetts, New York or Indiana probably will have first claim to the prisoner, a private detective agency announced here today. The conspiracy charge is contemplated, it was said, by Bruce Grannis, who claims Stewart defrauded him of $1200 in a stock deal in 1920.

Should a Woman TELL?

Hawthorne Emery decides to marry Dane Merrill without telling him that she has once been in love with another man. Later she discovers that Julie, Dane's little butterfly sister, is in love with the same man, and although Hawthorne knows that Cranford Blake or Corroll Blackton, as he now calls himself, is entirely unworthy, she is afraid to tell the truth. But when Julie threatens to run away with Blake Hawthorne is forced to tell her, and that night she also confesses to Dane. He treats her as though she has committed some terrible crime, for his ideas of womanhood are very narrow. Hawthorne decides that there is nothing to do but leave him, and she runs to Janet Ford, her best woman friend. She is sure that Dane will seek a reconciliation, but he makes no move toward seeing her, and Hawthorne is shocked when Janet suggests that she go back to her old magazine job.

CHAPTER I.
Amazing Youth

JANET did not press me when she saw how I felt; she left me to work out the problem for myself. Wise, wonderful Janet! Her words had sunk deeply into my mind and although there were moments when I felt that I must go to Dane, when I must at least explain to him my attitude toward everything, something kept me from doing it.

The longer I waited, the more my pride kept me from humbling myself, and after a few days passed and I had heard nothing from Dane, I did as Janet suggested and went back to my old job on the magazine.

Every one was kind, and no one asked any questions. My desk was placed in Janet's office, and the work was very pleasant. But my thoughts were with Dane, and there was rarely a night that I did not cry myself to sleep thinking about him.

One afternoon when I had left the office early because of a blinding headache, I met Julie coming down the stairs of our apartment house.

She seized me in the old impulsive way, and my heart leaped at the sight of her.

"Darling," she said, holding me off. "I must see you and talk to you right away."

I was too filled with emotion to know what I was doing, and when we reached the apartment my fingers trembled so that I could hardly fit the key into the lock. Julie took it in her firm young fingers, unlocked the door, and pushed me in ahead of her.

Once in Janet's living room I dropped into a chair, and Julie pulled a low bench up close to me and sat down on it.

"First of all," she began, "I want to tell you how sorry and ashamed I am for my part in what has happened. I've grown up, Hawthorne, and you're the one who is toward a sensible, steady, and a fool, a sentimental little idiot, but if it hadn't been for you, I might have done something foolish, if for no other reason than to prove that I was not a fool."

Julie's face lost its childish lines as she spoke, and her mouth was the mouth of a woman.

"I suffered," she said softly. "It didn't seem that I could have been so wrong in judging him, and I cared enough about him to have waited very much. For two days I just stayed in my room and cried. I wouldn't see anyone, not even Dane, so that I didn't know anything about you."

"What happened when you told him?" I asked softly.

"He denied it at first and he took me in his arms, and O, Hawthorne, I wanted to believe him, I wanted to know what he thought he was. 'I know dear,' I whispered, reaching for his hand and holding it tight in mine. We were both crying quietly, and yet there was almost no sound, for Julie seemed very close to me."

"But I couldn't believe him," Julie's voice went on, "and when I couldn't believe him, I found out. I didn't love him, I found out because I wanted to be in his arms in spite of what had happened. Do you understand what I mean, Hawthorne, can you understand that? And I did understand, for wasn't it the same feeling I had had when I had wanted to humble myself to the ground just to feel Dane's arms around me again?"

ATTRACTIVE RECIPES

Cream-of-Wheat Soup.

Sift one cupful of cream of wheat into a cupful of boiling water, add a teaspoonful each of salt and sugar, and boil until the cream of wheat is done, then stir a small glass of peanut butter into a pint of the soup. Stir the mixture while it comes to the boiling point. If the soup is too thick a little more milk may be added.

Fried Tomatoes.

Cut the needed number of tomatoes in thick slices, dip them in eggs, then in crumbs, dust with pepper, salt and sugar mixed, and fry in hot fat, or the tomatoes may be dipped into a rather thick fritter batter and then fried in deep, hot fat. Both ways are good.

Late FASHION Hints

GIRLS—bobbed hair girls—there's hope! If you ever get the urge to restore that head of hair that you lost at the Shrine of the Scissors, Gloria Swanson, film star, has learned the secret for you.

Gloria, fresh from Paris, where she has been on a short vacation, brings the newest and the most bizarre coiffure to this country. For those who have bobbed hair, this is a very perplexing problem. It shows how the hair can be dressed up on the head in a most beautiful and elaborate manner. To secure this effect, the hair must be put in a head down position so that the hair will fall toward the top of the head. This is held in place by a strip of silver cloth wrapped around, crossed behind a nape, tucked into the upper edge at the front. A soft switch without a stem is then pinned in the top of the hair, divided into two parts, which are brought around and crossed on the forehead and tied behind. The ends of the bobbed hair on top of the head are then curled and two or three silver bands. Voila! The picture tresses brought down under the hair shows the result.

Beauty Talks

WHAT YOU CAN DO TO MAKE YOUR EYES MORE BEAUTIFUL

ALWAYS, clear, sparkling eyes have been counted a large factor in women's beauty. Although you may be conscious that an acquaintance has eyes which sparkle in their loveliness, it is difficult to realize to what a great extent these eyes dominate the beauty of her face.

This is realized in a greater measure in the degree in which noticeable things which are beautiful in themselves have for their setting a face which is not marked for great beauty of features. In fact, the plainer the features, the more noticeable is the degree in which beautiful eyes dominate the expression.

As I have often remarked in my articles, every woman owes it to those around her to be as charming and lovely as possible. This applies whether your walk in life be a very high or a very humble one. The more humble it is, the more important is the degree in which things which you can do to add to your happiness and the happiness of those around you.

Your eyes may not be a sapphire blue or the rich brown which you do not think attractive, and then again they may be as green as grass.

This brings up a point which is worthy of note for those who desire individuality. Suppose your eyes are green and you do not think it the most desirable of colors. Instead of wearing colors which make an unsuccessful attempt to hide their greenness, attempt to make them more green.

Both ways are good.

The Funny Pest

Sometimes—
I tread my well-worn path—
With heart bowed down—
For there are woes—
That come to us—
That make the lightest—
Heart grow sad—
Some woes that are so sacred—
'Twould be a sacrilege to smile.
This is the time—
The pest comes forth—
In grinning mockery—
Haw haw—he he—har har—
He shouts—
Here comes the fe-mail man—
And then he waits for—Loud applause.

He gets it—not—
But unperturbed—
He uses one more rusty joke—
From out his vast supply.
Why don't you hire a burro—man—
And if I dared to give him sass—
I'd say—I need a big jackass—
And—will you take the job?
But that might spoil his fun—
And as I go—
He shouts aloud—
Good-bye—poor Uncle Sam—mule.

On Christmas time he greets me with—
Well, here's old Santa Claus—
And says—I know you will enjoy—
This glorious Christmas day. A pause—
For laughter—
He asks me if—
It's hot enough—
When fierce sun broils my hide—
He asks me if I think 'twill rain—
When storms beat far and wide—
He also tells me that it is—
A splendid day for ducks.

He says the government—
Should buy a Ford—
For each and every man—
But Uncle Sam is very poor—
He really can't afford it—
The poor man has one virtue—
That I really must confess—
He furnishes all his own applause—
And that helps some—I guess—
The world is full of nuts and bolts—
And other hardware—
And so when nuts get very loose—
They're bound to rattle—
It's not so bad as it might be—
Let's be thankful—AMEN—
That he wasn't born—

The Army of a Million Crooks

A study in scientific criminology. Facts gleaned from the records of the Berkeley School for Police and of its founder, August Vollmer, president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, and leading authority on criminology.

The War on Crime

by Geo. C. Henderson

CHAPTER IX.

Servant Thieves.

(All Rights Reserved.)

Then one day when most of the people were away, she sauntered out of the house after her work was done for a little while, attired only in an old house dress and wearing no hat. An accomplice in an automobile was waiting for her with a coat and hat just around the corner, and she speeded away together. Of course it was discovered immediately that she had taken all the diamonds and other valuable jewelry in the house, sometimes getting $5000 or $10,000 worth. One such servant thief was a Chinese cook of rare ability who secured his positions on the strength of genuine credentials. He would work for no one but millionaires and demanded the highest salary. However, he was such a fine cook and made himself so generally useful and agreeable that he at once became the mascot of the servant in the house. After he was through with the cooking, he was always willing to go and help clean up the house, and particularly the ladies' rooms.

One day the Chinaman had a fight with another servant and quit precipitately. Nothing could induce him to return, and he had been gone for a time, the house was robbed. The Chinaman, if suspected, had an alibi. His conduct had been exemplary, as the millionaires would testify. The cook, however, had been studying the mansion, its masters and mistresses and its servants very carefully all during his stay. He had secured skeleton keys of servants for all the doors and while helping clean the rooms he had learned where the valuables were kept. It was an easy matter for him to enter when the house was nearly deserted, go directly to the repository for valuables, "jimmy" it open and make an escape. Another type of crook poses as an illiterate foreigner. Such a person will say that she has just come over from Hungary or some other country and declare that she has no letters of reference. She will talk brokenly, but once on the job will improve her English with surprising alacrity.

Many servants who are afraid to steal act as "spotters" for other crooks. They will locate the jewels in a house, secure keys for the doors or else plan to leave a door or window unlocked, and will deliver this information to an accomplice. When the place has been robbed, the servant is not suspected as he has taken great care to establish an alibi by being with others when the crime was committed.

Some servant thieves are very painstaking in their operations. They will work for months at a mental task, awaiting a good opportunity to make a haul. Then the help of a mistress has brought home all her jewelry from the safety deposit vaults for some social function, they will make their haul.

The only way to combat servant thieves is to make sure that their credentials are genuine and to study the character of every one who is hired for such a position of trust.

Geraldine's SHOULDER

OSWALD MORALIZES! He says

"When women are born who are not mercenary and self-seeking, then men will be born who are virtuous."

We're all born with an equal amount of yelps, hair and virtue, Oswald. It's what we meet up with after our teeth have come and our hair grown out that decides our virtue.

"Geraldine," "M. E. K." wrote on the double standard and as it is a very interesting subject, here is an earful which might interest others. From M. E. K.'s letter I have constructed her, and it appears that she is supercilious of the superiority of women. It lies in the sentence "If the fathers of the next generation were all as clean as the mothers of that same generation, we would have a super-race."

"Now then, I am not standing up for men because I am one, because I don't even make a plea for myself. I once heard a remark which was very hurtful in on the consciousness of everyone, would do away with half the hypocrisy of the world. It is 'WHAT YOU ARE SPEAKS SO LOUDLY THAT I CANNOT HEAR WHAT YOU SAY.'"

"When other men or women claim that they are more moral than their opposites, it sounds much like self-righteousness to be accorded without a grain of salt. Neither could be immoral without the help of the other and as far as claiming that the 'predatory' male is any different in the long run from his accomplice, it is foolish to say that women ALLOWED men to rule her, WANTED him to protect her and has no same right to kick at the results. Look over the baby dolls throughout the land, and they're baby dolls if they didn't want to be? To make a conservative estimate I would say that fifty per cent of the working girls in the country would not sign their names with money without asking anything else."

"For women to try and escape any responsibility in the condition of modern life is cowardly, selfish and the height of conceit. The opposite of every truth is also true. MAN MADE WOMAN WHAT SHE IS AND WOMAN MADE MAN WHAT HE IS. Both are to blame. When women are born who are not mercenary and self-seeking, then men will be born who are virtuous. Just because women as a rule do not come in contact with half the temptations that men do, it is no sign of their greater virtue. The world's views of a man may place him as a fish or a snail because he is moral, but what are the world's views worth anyhow? The world's view of a man who is without sin is that he is a saint. The only thing that will provide a super-race is brains on BOTH sides of the family and we have a long way to go before then."

"When women cease trying to be lollypops, and men heroes, they may realize that life is a serious proposition as well as a funny one. 'BOLSHIEVIC BILL OSWALD.'"

List to little Geraldine, Bolshevich Bill, I wish you'd write on only one side of the paper if you're going to keep sending me fiery communications. It makes me work, copying what's on the back of each page.

You're right about a lot of folks and men and women from whom temptation would run, breaking all speed limits—yet you'd think they were the part, as a citizen, in giving him a cent hand in every way you can, and in seeing that his children have the best possible homes and schools.

Democracy isn't an abstract issue. It's the payment of your personal debt to your fellow man. At some time in the remote past your ancestors climbed out of the bootblack class by the help of other men. You, yourself, are being released for more interesting and remunerative pursuits because Tony and Manuel and Pat and Dick black your boots and do your other chores. Then it's up to you, in simple decency and honesty, to give Tony and Manuel, Pat and Dick a hand in climbing to a higher level in their turn.

So if you don't vote a decent vote, and pay a decent tax, you're skipping your duty. That's all. (Copyright, 1922.)

The Inevitable Consequences.

Martin Littleton was born in East Tennessee. When he was a boy he moved to a community in Texas largely settled by people from his own part of the country, who had carried with them to their new home many of the customs and traditions of their native mountains. There he studied law and presently, having secured a license, he opened a modest law-office and sat down to await the coming of clients. Almost the first person who called upon him in a professional way was a gaunt Tennessean whom he had known as a child. The visitor stated that he wished to bring a lawsuit against a neighbor, also a transplanted Tennessean, to settle a dispute which had arisen over a line fence.

"Now see here, Uncle Zach," young Littleton said, "it's too bad that two old friends from the same part of the world should be lawing each other. Isn't there some way you men can settle this thing out of court?"

The old fellow shook his grizzled head. "Martin, I'm afraid not," he said. "When this yere row first got serious betwixt us, I made him a proposition. I suggested to him that we should decide it the same way we used to decide sich arguments back home. I told him if he'd meet me at sun-up in my pecan grove, bringin' his squirrel rifle with him, we'd stand up back to back, and each one would step off twenty steps and swing around and start shootin'. But, Martin, the low-flung craven, he couldn't stand the gaff when the shooting time came. He didn't have the sand. When I'd stepped off twenty steps and whirled around, you kin believe it or not, but the cowardly dog had done jumped behind a tree."

"What happened then?" asked Littleton. "Well, natchelly, Martin, that th'owed me behind a tree."

Uncle Wiggly Stories

by HOWARD GARN

"ONLY a few more days of school! Hurray! Only a few more days of school!" chattered Johnnie Bushytail, the squirrel boy, as he ran up a tree and then ran down again to show how happy he felt.

"I suppose you are hurrying to school so early because you love it so much and want to spend as many hours there as you can; is that it?" asked Uncle Wiggly, the bunny rabbit gentleman. He twinkled his pink nose surreptitiously like and quizzical as he said this.

"Oh, ho! Love school! I guess NOT!" laughed the squirrel boy. "Of course, I love the lady mouse teacher—we all do, because she is so kind," went on Johnnie. "But I only go to school because I HAVE to!"

"Well, that's one reason for going," said Uncle Wiggly. "But if you aren't going to class, why are you out so early this morning?"

"Because I am taking some hickory nuts to Grandfather Lightfoot," explained the squirrel boy. "He isn't feeling very well, and my mother told me to take him some of our last winter's nuts, of which we have plenty left. I have them here in a bag," and Johnnie showed the bag, made from birch bark, hanging over his shoulder.

"That's fine!" said Uncle Wiggly. "I hope when I grow old, and feel ill, that some one will be kind enough to bring me good things to eat, such as you are bringing to your Grandpa Lightfoot."

"Oh! somebody will be sure to bring you lots and lots of good things to eat, Uncle Lightfoot," chattered Johnnie.

"Well, please tell them not to bring hard hickory nuts," begged the bunny gentleman, as he looked at those in Johnnie's bag. "My teeth aren't made for eating nuts."

"We'll bring you carrots," promised Johnnie. "But now I must scamper on to Grandpa's and then to school."

"I'll go to Grandpa Lightfoot's nest house with you," offered Uncle Wiggly. "Perhaps I can cheer him up a bit as he eats the hickory nuts."

"Yes, come along," invited Johnnie, and soon he and the bunny rabbit gentleman were hurrying through the woods. It was not far to the nest house of Grandpa Lightfoot, the old squirrel gentleman. His home was in the side of a hollow tree, not very high up from the ground.

"Here are some nuts I brought you, Grandpa!" called Johnnie. "And here's Uncle Wiggly come to see you, and now I must hurry on to school, for I don't want to be late so near the end of the term."

Tossing the bag of nuts up to his grandfather, who looked out of the door of his tree house, Johnnie was hurrying away when Uncle Wiggly called:

"Ho, Johnnie! You've forgotten something!"

"What did I forget?" asked the squirrel boy.

"You forgot to leave your

"Bless your pink, twinkling nose!" chuckled Grandpa.

Grandfather a nut-cracker to break the hard shells on the hickory nuts," explained the bunny. "Leave the nut-cracker!" "Ha! ha! ha!" laughed the squirrel boy.

"Bless your pink, twinkling nose!" chuckled Grandpa Lightfoot. "I don't need a cracker, Uncle Wiggly. My teeth are good, even if I am old, and I can crack the nuts in my jaws."

"What, crack hard hickory nuts?" asked the bunny. "Of course!" said Grandpa Lightfoot. "Here, I'll show you!" And, as quickly as a wink, he gnawed and cracked the shell of a nut and took out the sweet meat inside.

"I can do that, too," chattered Johnnie, and, using his teeth and jaws as a nut-cracker, he broke open many nuts for his grandfather, who, though his teeth were still very good, had one or two poor ones.

"My! you certainly are a good nut-cracker," said the bunny to the squirrel boy. "I should have remembered that you could do this. Well, scamper on to school!"

Johnnie was hurrying away when, all at once, the Wozzie Wolf popped his head out of a hole in the rocks and growled:

"Well, there is eating going on here and I'm going to get my share!"

"What are you going to eat?" asked Grandpa Lightfoot. "Will you have some hickory nuts?"

"I'll have Uncle Wiggly's ears! That's what I'll have!" howled the Wolf, and he was just going to nibble the bunny, when Johnnie chattered:

"Hold on there! If my teeth are strong enough to crack hickory nuts, they are strong enough to bite a wolf's tail, I think, and that's what I'll do!"

And that's what Johnnie did: He bit the Wolf on the end of his tail so hard that the bad chap cried.

"Oh, I'll be good! I'll be good! I'll not nibble Uncle Wiggly! I'll run off to the woods!" and he did.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny. "I'm glad you are such a fine nut-cracker, Johnnie. And a tail-cracker, too! Now scamper to school!" And the squirrel boy did, while the bunny gentleman and Grandpa Lightfoot played checkers the rest of the day.

$10,000 BAIL IS ASKED IN BOOZE RUNNERS' CASES

Prisoners Taken in Monterey Fight to Face Charges of Conspiracy.

Charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law were filed yesterday with United States Commissioner Albert M. Hardie in Oakland against the eight liquor smugglers arrested at Monterey last Tuesday in the spectacular battle between federal officials and smugglers.

The men, who will appear before Commissioner Hardie Monday and for each of whom Director of Prohibition Samuel F. Rucker is asking $10,000 bail, are at present in the Alameda county jail.

They are: W. E. Mucci, 473 Haight avenue, Alameda; P. A. Woodside, San Francisco; J. E. Prohm, 263 Eighteenth street, Oakland; Clem Sullivan, San Jose; Sam Kalenzber, San Francisco; Jacob Wort, San Francisco; P. B. Millisack, San Francisco; A. T. Pellett, Seattle.

MEN FROM SEATTLE.

Several of the men recently came from Seattle, and two of the fourteen automobiles captured by the officials also came from Seattle.

Director of Prohibition Rucker said that he will summon before him A. W. Allen, owner of the wharf at Point Lobos, where the liquor is said to have been landed from the mystery vessel. Allen will be asked to explain this, and also why an attempt was made to bar the prohibition officials from the wharf.

On account of the fact that the smugglers are armed in hand, prohibition agents will in future be armed with sawed-off shotguns when they are sent on similar expeditions, it was announced.

One of the smugglers, who is said to have discharged his revolver at the feet of an official, gave as his explanation that he "was merely signaling."

BOOZE TO BE REMOVED.

The thousand cases of seized liquor, which are all of Canadian brands, will be moved from the Oakland warehouse, where they have been placed temporarily, to a special seizure room in San Francisco, where they can be guarded effectively against robbers.

The officials are searching for a woman who gave her name as "Mrs. Wilson" and who was found at the wheel of one of the automobiles into which the whisky was being loaded. She disappeared when she was released after she had claimed to be with her husband.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: (1) Would you tell me if the enclosed diagram of my hookup is right?

2. I am always getting a steady hum. Could you tell me what my trouble is? My antenna and ground are perfect. I went over my connections several times and scraped my wires good.

3. Would a hush affect my ground wire?

4. Is wire taken from a door bell good for a coil?

5. Is a coil three feet long better than a coil six inches long?

ALFRED ROGERS.

San Leandro.

1. Yes, the hookup you enclosed is O. K.

2. The hum is due to a loose or broken connection in the coil or poor contact by the slider on the crystal set.

3. No.

4. Yes.

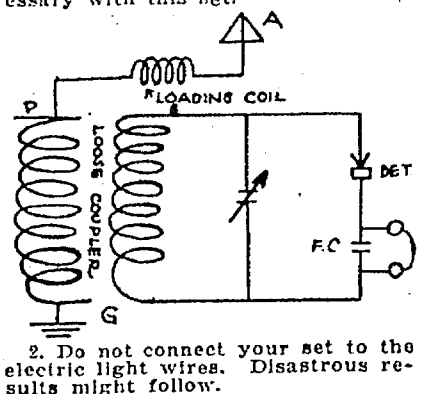

5. No.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: (1) Kindly tell me how to hook up a crystal detector set consisting of a variocoupler, 23-plate variable condenser, variable detector, fixed condenser, detector and phones.

2. Are the plugs you insert in an electric light socket as good as an outside aerial and will they work on the above crystal set?

MEMBER O. T. C. NO. 1123.

1. The hookup below is for a loose coupler and loading coil, but the same hookup may be used for your own set, placing the variocoupler in place of the loose coupler. Add the loading coil as shown in the diagram. A variometer is not necessary with this set.

2. Do not connect your set to the electric light wires. Disastrous results might follow.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: (1) I operate a variocoupler single tube receiving set, with various results. What are the results to be gained by installing a variable condenser in shunt between the secondary terminals?

2. What are the results gained by putting a variometer in the grid terminal of the secondary circuit?

3. Would there be any advantage in installing both the variometer and the condenser?

4. There is a fine copper wire soldering on between the primary and secondary wires of the coupler. Why is this when the secondary is supposed to be charged by induction? I do not notice any arrangement of this nature in any of the TRIBUNE diagrams of variocouplers. I removed this wire once as an experiment, and found it to change the volume of tone of the detector.

5. If this copper wire mentioned in the preceding paragraph is advantageous, would not a rheostat be better?

G. T. V.

688 Eighteenth street, Oakland.

1. A variable condenser across the secondary allows closer adjustment of the secondary winding.

2. None, unless you also insert a variometer in the plate circuit to make the set regenerative.

3. The condenser might help, and if you wish to install a variometer put it in series with the plate circuit.

4. We believe some one has been trying to make a variometer out of your variocoupler by connecting the two windings. In a variocoupler there is no electrical connection between the primary and secondary. The reason the signals decreased when you took the wire off is because the circuit was opened. To make a straight variocoupler hook-up out of it, it would be necessary to change the connections.

5. No, a rheostat would do no good.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: Will you please answer the following questions: (1) Which is best for a one-way antenna, a long lead or a short one?

2. What is the wave length of an antenna 115 feet long, 30 feet high at the end and 20 feet at the other, ground wire 10 feet and lead in 15 feet long?

3. About how much better are two variometers than two variable condensers, one 23-plate across the ground, and 43-plate across the secondary?

4. Would one six months' subscription be as good as two three-months?

5. How far is Gridley?

6. Should a crystal set containing two spider web coils, crystal de-

CANDIDATES OUT FOR PRESIDENCY OF RADIO CLUB

Lively Session Promised At Meeting for Perfecting Organization.

The contest for the presidency of The Oakland TRIBUNE Radio Club, which is to elect officers, adopt bylaws and become an independent organization on July 8 at a meeting at the T. and D. theater, promises to be a lively one. Although no preliminary nominations for president have been made, it was learned today that the members in East Oakland are getting behind a candidate while those in West Oakland are lining up their man. Word also was received from Berkeley that a candidate will come from that section.

A club with a membership of 3000 demands that capable leaders be selected to guide it. Before relinquishing the reins, the TRIBUNE desires to call the attention of the members to this important point.

A blank will be found on this page which, when filled out and mailed to the radio editor of The TRIBUNE, will help determine beforehand the approximate number of members who will be able to attend this important meeting. Every member who will attend should fill it out at once.

Director and phones be able to get Gridley?

7. If not, if I added a variable condenser could I get Gridley?

8. What plate is best for a spider web?

9. Is enameled wire good for spider web?

10. What gauge?

EARL WILSON.

2432 Bonar street, Berkeley.

1. A short lead in is desirable on any type of antenna.

2. Approximately 153 meters.

3. Variometers would probably be more selective. It is difficult to say which would be better, as it will depend to a large extent upon how they are connected.

4. No.

5. About 150 miles.

6. No.

7. No.

8. Adding a variable condenser of any kind will not enable you to receive Gridley—it is too far.

9. Yes.

10. No. 22.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: Please answer the following question: (1) Yesterday, Sunday, June 18, at 10 a. m., while the Fairmont Hotel was broadcasting, I heard a distant voice. I turned it up and heard dimly a voice say "450" or "250 miles from San Francisco." Who was it?

2. If a primary of a loose coupler is wound clock-wise, is it necessary to wind the secondary in the same direction?

3. Where can I get some iron pyrites for my detector?

CLUB MEMBER NO. 450.

1. We are unable to say who this might have been.

2. No, it makes no difference.

3. Try 423 Market street, San Francisco.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: (1) Would you mind telling me the measurements of a loop aerial. I have a set and cannot put an aerial on the roof.

HOMER KEARNET.

350 Grand avenue, Oakland.

1. A loop antenna may be constructed by winding ten turns of No. 18 bell wire on a form about 4 feet square, connecting one end of the wire to the antenna post, and the other to the ground. Instead of winding the wire on a form it may be placed on the picture moulding in a room. A loop antenna will not work efficiently with a crystal set.

BLIND ARTIST TO PRESENT SPANISH MUSIC ON RADIO

Rosendo Uruchurtu to Play On Instrument of His Own Invention Tomorrow.

Spanish music, furnished by a blind artist who plays an instrument of his own make, accompanied by the piano by one of Mexico City's favorite pianists, will be broadcast from KZM tomorrow afternoon between 3:30 and 4:30 o'clock. The TRIBUNE's station will broadcast for KZY, the station of the Atlantic-Pacific Radio Supplies Company of San Francisco, which is being removed from Oakland to the other side of the bay. The entertainment program was arranged by KZY.

Rosendo Uruchurtu is the blind artist. He was educated at the Berkeley Institute for the Blind and later went to Mexico. Both in Mexico City and in musical circles about the bay he is recognized as an accomplished musician. The instrument which he will play tomorrow afternoon is called the "Rosendolito," named after its maker. It is a one-string affair, the touch of which is varied with a piece of glass which the artist slides along the single string with one hand while he plays with the other. Its tone is something like the Hawaiian guitar.

Uruchurtu will be accompanied by Louis Martinez, who plays with the municipal orchestra in the bay region.

The selections to be given by these two artists will be "La Paloma," "La Golondrina," "Ojos Tristitos," "Non e Ver," "Sunshine of Your Smile," "A Mighty Lak a Rose," "La Perjura" and "Siciliano," taken from the opera, "Cavalleria Rusticana."

The program tomorrow evening from KZM between 8:15 and 9 o'clock will be provided by the Oakland T. & D. Theater and by Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Thomas. Thomas, a church and club tenor, and who has already been introduced to the radio audience, will be accompanied by Mrs. Thomas, an accomplished pianist.

The program arranged by Thomas includes one sacred song, "Dear Not, Ye of Israel," "The Little Irish Girl," "In the Great Unknown," "From an Indian Lodge," which is preceded by a piano prelude. The program from the T. & D., which will be professional talent, will be announced tomorrow.

Explorer Snow Will Lecture On Africa

Henry A. Snow, explorer, and donor of the million dollar collection of specimens of animals to the city, will address the Oakland High Twelve Club at a luncheon tomorrow at the Hotel Oakland. Snow's subject will be "Hunting Big Game in Africa."

Fifteen Minutes of Radio Daily

By Edward M. Davis

LESSON NO. 87.

Amplification and the Coil Aerial

(Copyright by Edward M. Davis.)
(All Rights Reserved by United Feature Syndicate. Reproduction Prohibited.)

In congested districts where there are physical limitations upon the installation of proper types of outdoor aerials, the coil or "loop" aerial provides a very satisfactory means of intercepting electric waves and impressing them upon a receiving circuit. This type of aerial has comparatively small dimensions and may be easily installed in an ordinary room. It should be suspended or pivoted upon a support so that it may be revolved until the plane of the aerial is in the direction of a particular transmitting station, thus insuring reception of strongest signals from that station.

Due to the fact that a small loop aerial is not as efficient as the usual form of outdoor antenna, the signals brought in on the loop are very weak. For this reason it is necessary to employ amplification to render the signals audible. An example of amplification used in connection with a small loop aerial is shown in the accompanying diagram. The terminals of the loop are connected across the variable condenser (C). By means of two stages of radio-frequency amplification, the weak incoming signal is increased in strength so that it will act upon a third vacuum tube which is used as a detector. It is absolutely necessary to have a certain strength of signal impressed upon the detector tube in order to secure rectification. The detector tube converts the signals of inaudible frequency into signals of audible frequency, which are further amplified or increased in strength, by two stages of audio-frequency and rendered audible in the receiving telephones.

Radio-frequency amplification, therefore, compensates for the lack of sensitivity of the detector tube while audio-frequency compensates given between maximum and minimum adjustments of the condenser (C). The turns should have 1/2 inch spacing and the wire may be any size from No. 18 to No. 22, either bare or insulated.

The radio-frequency transformers are of the air core type while the audio-frequency transformers have an iron core. A potentiometer having a resistance of 500 ohms is connected across the filament circuit of the vacuum tubes in the two stages of radio-frequency amplification and one side of the respective grid circuits is connected to the adjustable contact for the reason that the potential on the grids of these tubes has a very critical value.

The filaments of all the tubes are heated from a storage or "A" battery of 6 volts. The plate voltage of the tube in each stage of radio-frequency has a potential of 100 volts, the plate voltage of the detector tube is from 15 to 225 volts and the plate voltage of the tube in each stage of audio-frequency is 60 volts.

It may thus be seen that where conditions are not suitable for the erection of an outdoor aerial that the coil aerial used in conjunction with radio and audio-frequency amplification may be satisfactorily employed in the reception of radio signals.

BERKELEY PROBE OF HEARST HALL BLAZE CONTINUES

Spontaneous Combustion in Oil-Soaked Rags Is Believed Cause.

BERKELEY, June 22.—Investigation is still being made today as to the cause of the fire which destroyed Hearst Hall and annex last Tuesday night and damaged the State hygiene building. Although no definite cause could be assigned, spontaneous combustion in oil-soaked rags used by the janitor of the building and stored in the basement of the women's gymnasium is held by university authorities as the probable cause.

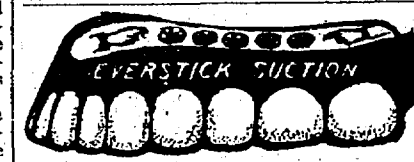

Fire Chief G. Sydney Rose investigated a report that gas stoves in the building had been left burning by students and teachers, but remnants of the stoves in the ruins showed that the burners had been turned off.

As far as can be ascertained the fire had been burning for probably an hour before the blaze was discovered, obtaining a good start in the basement of the building before the flames broke through the roof. The last students, those in swimming classes, are declared to have left the building about 6 o'clock.

Praise of the Berkeley fire department in preventing the spread of the fire and in saving the hygiene building which caught fire from the Hearst Hall blaze today was given by the university authorities. Damage to the hygiene building was confined to $1000 through heroic efforts on the part of Chief Rose and his men.

Hundreds of animals used for experimental purposes were lost either by asphyxiation or by being killed when turned loose. Reports that the animals were germ-laden and would probably spread disease were denied today by college authorities, who declared that all of the animals had been accounted for.

A special meeting of the building and grounds committee of the regents will probably be called in the near future to consider plans for rebuilding Hearst Hall. In the meantime classes will be held in Harmon Gymnasium and other campus buildings.

for Perfect Preserving

I sing a song of Kute Kuts
The suits I like the best;
'Cause no matter how I play
I always look well dressed.

KUTE KUTS are all the rage these days because Kute Kuts have made playsuits fashionable. The wide Dutch peg, high curved waistband—set off with narrow red piping, shiny metal buttons and dapper little pockets—give Kute Kuts a style-and-swing almost unbelievable in a playsuit. Put your young hopeful in Kute Kuts today—and see!

Made in strong, wear-proof fabrics with "every stitch guaranteed," and in ample variety—so you can pick your pattern-pet. You'll applaud the low prices, too! At most good stores—stop in at yours today!

"I Prescribe It for My Car"

WHEN minutes count in the spirited sprint with old Mr. Stork, or in the grim race to stay the hand of the Reaper—the doctor's car must be instantly ready and always dependable. That's why he buys real motor oil.

Experience has taught him that faulty lubrication causes ninety per cent of all motor troubles. He knows that VENTURA, Paraffin-Base Oil keeps the faith, "stands up" under heat and lubricates to the last drop.

You, too, can always depend on its uniform goodness. Look for the Red "V" sign and say "VENTURA" to the garage or service station man.
